RACE MEETING TO-MORROW

Some Excellent Sport
Assured

PROSPECTS DISCUSSED

(BY "LAST QUARTER.")

Followers of the Sport of Kings will be well provided for at the 8th Extra Race Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club on Saturday, Oct. 10. The card is an exceedingly attractive one, with the Sub-Griffin Plate featured as the main event, over a distance of 11 miles.

Mr. S. C. Liang who has been riding with moderate success since his initial appearance on the local course in early May of this year will not be seen in the saddle at this meeting. This popular jockey has only just recovered from a severe attack of malaria and is still convalescing. There is also a possibility that Mr. H. M. Pih will be on the absent list owing to an injured knee sustained through an accident on the cinder track while putting a few ponies through their paces on Tuesday morning. Mr. Pih has been booked for some promising mounts and it is earnestly hoped that he will have recovered sufficiently by Saturday to face the starter.

DOUBLE TENTH PLATE

The meeting will open with an appropriate event, named after

China's National Day. In which the best of our China ponies will try conclusions over 5 furlongs. Latest reports are to the effect that Royal Scot and possibly King's Warden are not accepting. Mr. Frost, the Dunbar premier jockey will have the mount on Oak Bay and should secure a place. Soldier of Britain with Mr. H. C. Pih up will start a firm favourite. Mr. Li Shiu Pang's grey is extremely fast over a short distance and despite an extra 19 lbs. since his last victory, should account for this race. Honeymoon Eve has been steadily improving in her morning work and should run well. Wild Life (P. P. Botelho), Gladiator (R. M. Wood) and Diana Bay will make up the field.

MOTOR LORRY ACCIDENT

Pedestrian Killed
On The Spot

Passers-by were horrified to witness a ghastly motor accident which occurred in Bonham Strand, East, during the busy hour of yesterday morning, when a pedestrian was knocked down by a motor lorry and killed. Death was instantaneous as one of the vehicle's wheels passed over the unfortunate man's head. In a report submitted to the police, Leung Shu Fan, driver of lorry No. 318 states that he was proceeding in Bonham Strand, East, in a westerly direction, and when near Man Wah Lane ricksha No. 496 approaching from the south side of the road attempted to cross. Leung swung sharply to the left in an effort to avoid the man-drawn vehicle, and felt a bump against his truck. He heard a shout, and when he alighted from his lorry he saw a man lying on the road.

NATIONAL CONGRESS IN CHINA

Philippine Delegates

Manila, Oct. 8.
For the first time in history, the Chinese all over the Philippines voted to elect candidates as their official representatives to attend the forthcoming National Congress in China.

Among six of the elected are Dee Ching-chuan, President of the Philippine Chinese General Chamber of Commerce and China Banking Corporation, who easily topped the voting, and Yu Yi-ting, Chinese newspaper publisher. Dee is well-known in banking circles in Shanghai.

EUROPEAN LAD BITTEN

A dog-bite case has been brought to the attention of the authorities. Mr. Fritz Henry of the Hong Kong Fire Brigade, reports that a brown chow puppy bit his son, Roy yesterday. The dog was sent to the Kennedy Town for observation, whilst Roy was treated by Dr. Utley.

COLONY DANCE CHAMPIONSHIP

Finals Fixed For Sunday

The Colony dance championship was continued at the Hong Kong Hotel Roof Garden yesterday afternoon. The judges are Miss Pat Sykes and Mr. J. A. Andrew.

Owing to none of the competitors dancing the basic steps the judges could not select any couples for the finals to be decided on Sunday afternoon but the following couples were passed through by popular vote:—
—Mr. V. M. Benwell and Miss K. Winch;
—Mr. O. R. Sallick and Miss G. Wong.

Johannesburg, Oct. 8.
Scott and Guthrie left Johannesburg to-day for the homeward flight. They are doing the journey leisurely and not attempting to lower time for the outward flight.

BOMB THROWN IN HANKOW

Japanese Store
Excitement

Shanghai, Oct. 8.
In the midst of general relief over the outcome of the conference between General Chiang Kai-shek and Mr. Kawagoe, news has been received from Japanese sources that an unidentified person threw a bomb into a Japanese pharmacy and bookstore in Chinese territory at Hankow.

The bomb did not explode. Employees and customers were badly frightened. The miscreant succeeded in escaping.

Patrols of Japanese bluejackets in the Japanese Concession were immediately strengthened and other precautions taken.

DETECTIVE'S ARREST

Alleged Pickpocket
At Work

Working swiftly whilst a crowd had collected in the vicinity of a fatal accident in Bonham Strand East, a practised hand at the game split open the pocket of a man and attempted to extract what he thought to be a purse.

It was only a packet of cigarettes. Sixty-one cents in money fell to the ground.

The man in question, Leung Hee, 52 years of age, was alleged to have been by a Chinese detective at work. He was apprehended on the spot.

The victim of the attempted larceny was a shop foki from Cheung Chau.

Leung Hee will in all probability be brought before the Magistracy this morning on charges relating to larceny and possession of an instrument fit for an unlawful purpose.

INTERPORT CRICKET

Fincher
Scores
Century

Shanghai, Oct. 7.
E. F. Fincher (Kowloon Cricket Club) distinguished himself to-day when he scored 127 not out towards a total of 277 collected by Hong Kong in reply to Shanghai's first innings score of 479 in the second day of the Interport cricket match.

Shanghai, with a lead of 202 runs, decided to bat again.

Fincher's century is the first he has scored in an Interport match. His previous highest being 77.

Fincher batted for three hours and four minutes and was very steady and stolid. He was given a great ovation when he hit a boundary to get his 100.

The weather was sunny and the wicket showed signs of wear.

A single by Fincher (38 not out overnight) sent the 100 up scored in two hours and 10 minutes.

Fincher then sent a ball from Leckie to the rails and reached his 50.

When Fincher had scored 56, Nazarin, who made his debut in Interport cricket, was bowled by Divecha for 24 (139-5-14).

PERSE CAUGHT
Perse joined Fincher and with a boundary sent up the 150 in 174 minutes.

The pair scored freely and a single by Perse sent the 200 up, scored in 217 minutes.

After surviving a life by Leckie Perse was caught by Weston off Divecha's bowling for 37 (210-5-37).

Gosano was the next man in but he did not last long being clean bowled by Stokes for only eight runs (222-7-8).

FINCHER REACHES 100
Clegg-Hill joined Fincher. The latter with a boundary hit off Stokes reached his century amid prolonged ovation.

Fincher was at the crease for 184 minutes and his batting was very steady and stolid. He scored all round the wicket.

PLANTERS ALARMED IN SAMOA

Request To Deport
Chinese Labour

Wellington, Oct. 8.
A controversy over Chinese labour has arisen in Samoa.

The local Advisory Council has sent a wireless message to the Government in New Zealand requesting immediate deportation of all Chinese labour.

Planters in Apia are alarmed at this, fearing that the granting of the request might mean the ruin of plantations as local labour is unsuitable.

A political party formed for the purpose is opposing the proposal.

SOUTH CHINA DEFENCES

Army Leaders In Conference

Canton, Oct. 8.
It is reported that General Chen Sing, Chief Adviser of the Military Affairs Committee, paid a flying visit to Hong Kong yesterday, and will return to Canton to-day.

Weather permitting, General Chen will take off for Nanking to-day or to-morrow, and he has already telegraphed to General Pei Chung-hsi.

After conferring with General Pei Chung-hsi it is said that General Chen Sing will attend the grand military review, and then fly to Kweilin to confer with General Li Tsung-jen.

After conferring with General Li Tsung-jen, General Chen Sing will return to Nanking and fly to Nanking together with General Pei Chung-hsi to confer with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and assist him in important matters connected with national defences.

Accordingly, it is understood that General Pei Chung-hsi has given up his intention of going abroad on a special mission of investigation.

It is also stated that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek may ask General Pei Chung-hsi to take command of the defence forces of South China.

Owing to the pressing nature of military affairs, connected with Army Department in Nanking, it is reported that General Ho Ying-hom has been obliged to postpone his departure for Canton; and consequently, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek has decided to ask General Pei Chung-hsi to take General Ho Ying-hom's place as Commanding Officer of the defence forces of South China.

NON-FORTIFICATION IN PACIFIC

London, Oct. 7.
The British Government have recently approached through the usual diplomatic channels the United States and the Japanese Governments with regard to Article 19 of the Washington Naval Treaty dealing with non-fortification in the Pacific. The approach has been made with the object of ascertaining views of two Governments concerning the renewal of the Article.

Ramada
A VITELLA HOUSE PRODUCT
SUPERFINE PURE WOOL

Model by Mme. Anny Blatt

Look! This chic frock has been worn at least a score of times yet it fits as fleetly as the day it was made. And why? because there's a 'life' about 'Ramada' wool that gives lasting style and fit to anything you knit in it.

'Ramada' is the perfect wool for fashion knitting. Famous knitwear designers use it and recommend it. An exceptionally soft and 'kind' wool, it has wonderful wearing qualities and colours that are absolutely fast to sun and washing. Another advantage—the colours never vary. You can match up any shade of 'Ramada' wool, at any time, in any shop where 'Ramada' can be bought.

From all first-class stores throughout the East. If any difficulty, please write Wm. Hollins & Co., Ltd., Vitella House, Nottingham, England.

LONDON FASHIONS

Furs For Early Autumn

Travel coats are made this season of fleecy sports fabrics, natural, grey, and tan, and of knotty tweeds.

Among the favourite styles are the reefer and a long swagger coat, cut on mannish lines, neither of which is fur-trimmed. The flared outline may be belted or unbelted and has wide, comfortable sleeves, large practical pockets, and wide belts of leather or of self material. Useful and comfortable driving coat of two-colour bird's-eye tweed has cape sleeves and close stitching on the small upstanding collar, cuffs, and pockets. Fur trimmings on coats are mostly of the harder-wearing long-haired furs such as tynx, skunk, cross fox, and a few of the flatter furs such as nutria and beaver. In their natural tones these look well with neutral, coloured tweeds. A coat of red-brown tweed has a long collar of cross fox which lies flat on the shoulders, the two heads forming a point in the centre of the back.

The newest line in sports coats gives an hour-glass silhouette. It has wide lapels and pocket flaps which stand out over the hips to accentuate the fitted waistline. It is best untrimmed and made in a brushed fleece fabric.

Smooth suede-like materials such as broadcloth and duvetyne are used for more formal coats.

These have fitted bodices and flared skirts with squared shoulders and high necklines. They are much trimmed with bandings and insertions of Persian lamb. This fur is also used for waistcoats, yokes, and sleeves. Skillful methods of treatment enable furs to be made up into coats with as much intimacy of detail and cut as those in woollen materials. A fur coat with tunic effect is flared all round. It may be in grey, brown, or black Indian lamb and is to be worn over a slim woollen dress which exactly matches the colour of the fur. Another shape shows the fullness falling from a fitted shoulders line, giving a lamb-shade effect. A slender, straight full-length coat of black poney has an upstanding collar and extreme width at the shoulders. Soft deep furs such as sable and mink make coats of slim, straight outline with wide sleeves and classical shawl collars. Grey Persian lamb and ombre dyed lamb are used for front-belted swagger coats; the sleeves are moderately wide. A coat of grey Persian lamb cut on princess-lines has a double-breasted front and gathered sleeves.

Casual fur coats, both belted and plain, are cut on swagger lines in three-quarter length. They have convertible collars and sensible double-breasted fastenings. Favourite furs are black ponyskin, grey and brown lamb, and bronze or black seal. Lapin also is dyed and used with considerable effect for this type of coat, which may be given a more formal appearance by a large fox collar.

Ermine for evening wear still remains the favoured fur. It is used to make a straight hanging box coat of hip length with deep arm-hole sleeves. A stiffly flared ermine cape of two-thirds length has a flat neckline and wide rippling collar. Floor-length coats of white ermine are moulded to the figure with new yokes and sleeves which give either shoulder emphasis or a mass of fullness above the narrow cuffs.

SCARF-MAKING

Velvet Or Knitting

The scarf is again in request to provide that touch of colour for the winter. Colour cannot be too bright or too greatly varied, and it is in this intention that many people are making their own scarves, whether by means of knitting or be confections in silk or velvet. Some scarves are made by means of two pieces of ribbon from six to eight inches wide. One piece may be striped, the other plain. Or stripes and spots may be joined together. If the spots are big these are cut out and the edges neatly tucked under and sewn, it may be with a different-coloured thread. In this way pattern may combine with pattern to make a varied scheme. At this time of year tailored suits look well with an appropriate scarf, which many people prefer to a fur. 'Bouclé' silk or cotton in dead white or creamy yellow can be knitted into short, narrow scarves which turn over under the chin as though they were a stock. A good way to do these is to make them about six inches wide in moss-stitch—one purl, with an uneven number of stitches. In addition they can also be on the bias, by putting on one stitch at one end and taking off one at the other. These narrow bias scarves look well in a bright colour in plain stocking-stitch, the slant giving them the effect of weaving. Velvet scarves can be made of brightly striped velvet, backed perhaps with black velvet. If both are thin and supple, a silk backing in a bright colour can also be used. Thus many are the varieties in scarves which can be made to fill in the tops of coats and dresses.

Women are intrigued by the new fringe fashions in which curls take an upward tilt away from the brow. These cunningly placed little curls soften the brow line, yet give a wide sweep to the forehead that has been found to be such a becoming 'vogue' in these days when eyes and eyebrows have so much care bestowed upon their beauty.

Most faces are improved by some softening at the brow line, and it is often a question of facial type as to which is the best way to arrange the front coiffure. The shape of features, the eyes and eyebrows are among the most important points to consider.

A girl with pliant features can take the modish row of short upstanding curls over the front of the brow, but this would be too trying for a well-rounded face. Then the fringe should be designed by side placing, to give a little additional length to the features. The rather short, prettily shaped fringe is helpful when the forehead is too high. A wide brow needs softening at each side with waves of hair or tiny curls just over the temples.

Women are intrigued by the new fringe fashions in which curls take an upward tilt away from the brow. These cunningly placed little curls soften the brow line, yet give a wide sweep to the forehead that has been found to be such a becoming 'vogue' in these days when eyes and eyebrows have so much care bestowed upon their beauty.

A half fringe is a new idea. This is arranged on whichever side of the brow proves most becoming, and the hair is drawn back in a soft wave on the other side. However soignée these hairdressings are, the effect is never allowed to be stiff, and there is plenty of scope for strengthening individual beauty points and of suiting the coiffure to the shape of the face and the profile.

FOREHEAD REVEALED

Sometimes there is a double row of tiny curls at one side, and two or three odd ones carefully placed at the other. Each curl is placed with delicate artistry, and with the slightly tilted back effect that does not altogether hide the actual hair line, but just accents the most becoming curve of the forehead. These upstanding fringes suit fair and dark heads alike, and are not difficult to achieve when the hair has once been trained. If necessary, a little transparent fixative can be used to keep unruly tendrils in position.

There is no doubt that these fringes of 18th century inspiration are youthful and becoming. In many instances when the hair is dressed with curls at the nape of the neck, as it so often is, an upward tilted fringe of tiny curls can give better proportions to the coiffure and make the head more shapely in outline.

Silhouette shapeliness of the head is essential in all the new ways of hairdressing. Whether the hair be short or long at the back, set in a wide wave across the crown, or sleek and straight, heads are improved when the hair is correctly shaped. One of the difficulties of the front and back curled coiffures is the awkward line the hair sometimes takes over the crown of the head. With a well-shaped head the hair may fall naturally into a graceful contour at the back. Clever shaping by a hairdresser will achieve the same result.

Swathed Crowns Give Softer Line

Crowns of varying degrees of height sway the latest modes in millinery. The creators of fashion have given a softening touch to the new line by means of trimming, which swatches and circles crowns and brims. Colour contrast is also provided by this means.

Short brims that roll up at both sides, slant down on one and up at the other or peaking slightly forward back and front, are characteristics of the new high-crowned venture in autumn. Parisian millinery, according to Suzanne Talbot. This modiste insists on hats being not only smart, but elegant, and makes fittings swerve in a manner entirely opposed to the perch forward that got its impetus from elastic grips to low crowns. These hats are still worn, also berets, with one new model of black felt slanting from high up on right to way down on the left, where a flat black feather dips beyond over one eye.

Felts sway and a smart black shape rallied with machine-stitched lines and a velvet ribbon trimming vies with one of English violet blue felt showing a matching coloured ostrich trimming at the back.

Both navy and bottle green are smart and may urge the use of natural coloured turkey quills. Violet blue is the new craze for felt shapes, and this particular style shows it off to perfection. Other colours, greens, browns and Burgundy reds, are liable to be seen as the autumn season develops.

Hats bank up high crown in panne velvet. These are for occasions and not ordinary wear, so lace veiling enhances them, and this medium takes a short drop all way round a brim. This brim peaks slightly forward in front from flatter sides and the shape in black panne is complete with a rosette of seed pearls surrounded by lace set right at the centre front of the crown. Gloves of the panne with black lace inserted shadow the back of the back of the hand and extend into a gauntlet cuff.

RAGE THIS WINTER

The new semi-tailored dinner frocks will be the rage this winter. High neck and long sleeves. In lame, lace, velvet, or any rich material, they will be smart enough for quite important parties. These frocks show skirts that just touch or clear the ground. Only formal frocks are trained. Sleeves can just come over the elbow, but long-fitted ones, that suit all women, are as fashionable as ever.

Purple is a good colour for day and night. All-white is much worn, especially in matt materials. White matt satin is effectively mixed with the shiny satin surface. Many of the more luxurious matt colours are trimmed with white fox.

The lovely lame designs are so richly woven that sombre shades and designs are best. A pale pastel shade of pink is blended with a silver weave, is completed by a tailored jacket of fine silver lame.

FOR MOTHER'S MILK"

Says a Lady Doctor

"I have much pleasure in expressing my unqualified approval of your Lactogen, as a perfect diet and the best substitute for mother's milk. I especially found that Lactogen contains the exact amount of fat needed in a food for infants and that the emulsification of the fat helps greatly in the digestion and assimilation.

You have every permission to use this testimonial as you wish, for I feel sure the more this Food is used the greater will be the favourable impression it must make."

Even the most delicate babies thrive on Lactogen because it contains all the vital nutriment they need, in easily digested form. Lactogen is pure, fresh, full-cream modified dried milk with extra cream and natural milk sugar added, made in all important respects exactly like breast milk.

DRESS TO SUIT YOUR TYPE

Women differ more in this country than in any other. Yet few women show their individuality by dressing to suit their particular type, personality, figure, and general appearance. This is due to the lack of understanding of the styles which suit them best.

French women, who are often said to be the best-dressed women in the world, all more or less conform to one definite type. They have sleek hair, full figures, small hips, and definite eyebrows. Yet, despite changing fashions, they usually manage to express individuality in their dress.

Apart from actual appearance, clothes can make all the difference to a woman. They may even affect her personality.

The haphazard way in which most women select their clothes is appalling. Think of the manner in which you choose yours. Perhaps a bright colour appeals to you; the frock is rather different from the one you had last year; it fits without any alterations being necessary; your husband likes it because it's bright and frilly.

Not one of these rather petty reasons should ever be considered when buying clothes. The dress is probably all wrong on you, and in time you begin to realise it without knowing quite why. You imagine that you are tired of it, or that it is out of date—anyhow, you feel "all wrong."

The point to consider when buying clothes is yourself. If once you exactly determine your type, you will never have any difficulty in making up your mind about a garment. You will be able to tell immediately whether it will suit you or not.

A woman who knows that the clothes she is wearing are exactly what she should be wearing, feels "just right." Have you ever experienced that feeling? It gives you more confidence than anything else, and makes you feel on top of the world. What is more, clothes which are correct will not "date" so far as you are concerned. It is infinitely more important to be dressed to suit yourself than to suit the fashion of the day. The latter may not suit you at all.

SUIT YOUR TYPE.

There is more variety in fashion styles at present than there has ever been before, so that it should not be difficult for every woman to express individuality in her dress, and to be fashionable at the same time.

If you are short and slim, select dainty clothes, remembering that tunic styles at present than there has ever been before, so that it should not be difficult for every woman to express individuality in her dress, and to be fashionable at the same time.

On the other hand, a tunic, or two-piece suit is ideal for the too-tall girl, and frills should be worn by the too-thin type.

Shorts clothes suit most women, but unless you feel absolutely at home in tweeds and brogues, don't wear them. Most people feel happiest in tailor-made, and are wise to stick to this type of garment, since they become all types.

Hats are difficult. The tall, elegant girl can look equally charming in a large, floppy hat, and in a tiny French model. But the high hat is not for her. Short people should never wear large-brimmed headgear, caps and pliant little models suit them best, while the new high hats are ideal.

BECOMING COLOURS.

What about colour? Think of your eyes and hair first. Then your complexion. The colours of your clothes should either definitely match or contrast your colouring.

There are other points to consider, too. While the tall, exotic type can wear bright reds, oranges, and purples, the dainty, fair type would only look rather "loud" in these colours. She should wear dainty blues, mauves, and greys.

These are just a few of the points which should be considered when selecting your clothes. But think of your personality, too—that is the chief point.

AROUND THE SHOPS

LANE, CRAWFORD'S

A wonderful selection of dresses in woollen crepes and heavy silks, have just arrived in this store. Many models were on display yesterday, one specially attractive was a tunic dress in plum crepe satin, faced with satin crepe. Another was in black and silver crepe silk with the new wide sleeves. For cooler days there was one in wool crepe in nigger brown with cream satin scarf and quilted basque and belt. The model in black patterned cloche with extra wide sleeves and finished off with big diamante buckle, was exceptionally smart.

RIVELLE

A really smart range in velvets are on view at Rivelle's. Cocktail and evening gowns in many shades such as wine, brown and black were included in this snappy shipment. Call in and see these lovely dresses before they are all sold.

MAYOS

Will be receiving another shipment of new hats on Monday the 12th and there are felts and velvets for day and dressy wear.

GORDONS

Have just received a very fine shipment of hosiery, in all shades, and in the latest crepe textures.

BRIGHTER NOTE IN DRESS

Still More Colourful Accessories

The much-improved blouse or waist-coat-blouse is very smart. Gay fronts in multi-coloured wool weaves have backs and sleeves of plain silk that match the lining of the coat. Chamols and felt of softest character are novel, and have a certain sporting air that is the perfect completion to the tweed suit.

These waistcoats are cut fairly short, just coming over the waistline, frequently finished with interesting little pockets. Several shirt-blouses are composed of thick silk or satin worked on plain tailored lines. Wide Roman stripes look well, so does plain white or spotted foulard.

Neck-lines are varied with tailored suits. A scarf is the simplest solution. Ribbon and narrow foulard ties are either terminated in a bow or can be fringed and tucked into the neck of a cambric or silk shirt. Sometimes a gay wider scarf is worn with a wool coat of coatée. Hand-bags match scarves and, possibly, hats. Coloured kid or leather shoes are worn with dark wool dresses. They should be well cut and not over-decorative.

The return of the gay glove adds proof that this is to be a season of colour. Blue, red, and green gloves in kid stress a scheme, together with hat and scarf. Long black suede gloves are favoured for the afternoon. Short hand-sewn cape gloves are correct in the morning, varied by coloured stitching. There are hand-knitted white and yellow silk gloves, resembling those worn for cubbing. Like white and yellow chamols, they are always a good choice in the country.

There is a slight Directoire look about the newest three-quarter and five-eighth length flared jackets. The wide revers and large trimmed pockets have a period air. The latter are very becoming to the modern figure, as they accentuate the slimmness of the new narrow slit skirts.

Tunics in many cases stress a similar line and have borders of braid, velvet and fur.

Purple is used to trim black and brown. Parma fallie is introduced into black moire. A frock of brown lamage has braces and belt and half-sleeves of purple velvet. A brown corduroy suit is worn

KNEE-LENGTH BLOUSES

Blouses down to the knees—that's the latest Paris fashion fad. New models have several points reaching well below the waist, and extreme cases go as the knees.

Well, it's only a step from knee-length blouses to stockings held up by a jewelled necklet around the throat or hats with the brims resting on the shoulders with a peep-hole cut in the crown.

Some body should reconstruct the once popular song to read, "I'm knee-deep in blouses; And head-over-heels in gloves."

with purple felt hat and waist-coat.

These mixtures are favoured in Paris. English tailors stress dark green and brown with tomato, and navy with purple. Smooth-face cloths in contrasting colours are inserted in ribbed crepe frocks or those in pibby wools.

MR. BALDWIN WAS NEARLY SPEAKER

Sir Charles Petrie's
Revelation

WALTER LONG AND LEADERSHIP

Mr. Baldwin, but for the fact that he was considered too valuable a departmental Minister by the Coalition Government, might have been Speaker of the House of Commons instead of Prime Minister.

This is one of the many side-lights on politics during the last 60 years revealed for the first time by Sir Charles Petrie in the life of the late Mr. Walter Long, the Conservative statesman, afterwards the first Viscount Long of Wraxall, which appeared recently. When Mr. Speaker Lowther—later Viscount Ullswater—resigned in 1921 the names of Mr. Whitley, Sir Frederick Banbury and Mr. Baldwin were canvassed among M.P.s. There is now little doubt, in Sir Charles Petrie's view, that Mr. Baldwin was favourite for the position. He was then President of the Board of Trade.

In reply to a letter from Mr. Walter Long, his old friend, Sir William Bull, a most influential Conservative M.P., wrote:

We should be delighted to have Stanley Baldwin, but the Government will not allow him to go because they feel he is more useful where he is—and I agree.

BALFOUR'S SUCCESSOR

Mr. Long, "the Last of the Squires"—the country gentleman who ruled England for three centuries—and a member of an historic Wiltshire family, might himself have been Prime Minister. If he had not refused, in his own words, to "be a party to putting the Unionist cause up to Dutch auction," he would almost certainly, Sir Charles Petrie reveals, have been leader of the Conservative party in succession to Mr. Balfour, later the Earl of Balfour.

When Mr. Balfour suddenly resigned on Nov. 8, 1911, the names of both Mr. Long and Mr. Austen Chamberlain (now Sir Austen Chamberlain) were put up for the vacant leadership. Lord Balfour, now the Earl of Crawford and Balcarres, the Chief Government Whip, supported Mr. Chamberlain; Sir Harry Samuel and Sir William Bull supported Mr. Long.

These latter were firmly convinced that if Mr. Long consented to stand he would get in. But before approaching him they conducted an exhaustive canvass of the Conservative and Unionist members. This gave Mr. Long, if it came to a ballot, a majority of least 70 over Mr. Chamberlain.

MR. LONG'S REFUSAL

Mr. Long, had devoted over thirty years of his life to the Conservative cause and might reasonably expect the reversion of the leadership. On the other hand, his health was bad and he disliked intensely the idea of an "undignified ballot" for the leadership of the great Unionist cause.

Lord Balfour tried to persuade him to withdraw in favour of Mr. Chamberlain; Sir William Bull and Sir Harry Samuel to fight. Hours passed while he fought his struggle with himself.

At last Mr. Long declared: "I have determined to retire if Chamberlain will do so also, and then Bonar Law can be unanimously elected leader of the Unionist party." He then turned to Sir Harry Samuel and said: "Harry, you've got to see to this for me."

This was more than the other could stand, and he exclaimed: "I'll be damned if I will." Am I your leader?" snapped Mr. Long. "Yes, sir." "Why, in God's name, don't you obey me then?" Mr. Long then sent Sir Harry Samuel with a message to Lord Balfour with the words: "Now then, you go and do as you're told and don't let me hear another word." The message was to the effect that if Mr. Chamberlain would withdraw Mr. Long would do so, too. Mr. Chamberlain agreed and Mr. Bonar Law became leader of the party, and subsequently Prime Minister. "Walter Long and His Times," by Sir Charles Petrie, Bart. (Hutchinson, 18s.).

noon. Lord Stanhope, First Commissioner of Works, who is one of the Ministers chiefly concerned in Coronation arrangements and Lord Macmillan, Chairman of Executive Committee of King George V Memorial Fund, were other visitors received in audience to-day. British Wireless.

THE TEXAS RANGERS

A picture important in the skillful way in which it reflects an early period of American development, is currently showing at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres where King Vidor's epic of the Southwest, "The Texas Rangers" opens to-day. Fred MacMurray and Jack Oakie head the cast in roles entirely new to both of them. Both MacMurray and the Oakie are seen as members of the 1887 Texas Rangers, the fearless body of men who undertook to make Texas "a reasonably safe place in which to live."

Jean Parker, has the leading feminine role, that of a daughter of the commander of an outlying Ranger post.

Placing a romantic, action-filled plot against a background as vast as the entire outdoors and as historically accurate as research could make it, King Vidor has scored with a film that tops the field from every point of view. The crew which made "The Texas Rangers" spent more than two months in the desert regions of New Mexico and Texas five hundred miles from Hollywood, to record its story.

No more thrilling scene has ever been made than the Indian war which marks a turn of the story of "Texas Rangers." Staged by more than 500 players: many of them Indians enlisted from the still primitive tribes of New Mexico, it marks a high point of the drama.

"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"

The first technicolor picture of the outdoors, Walter Wanger's production of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" will be shown at the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with Sylvia Sydney, Fred MacMurray and Henry Fonda in the starring roles. "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" based on the famous novel of the same title by John Fox, Jr., was filmed on a location almost exactly like the Cumberland Mountain in which the Fox novel was set.

The picture follows the Fox novel closely. Miss Sydney and Fonda are members of the Tolliver clan, continually "feuding" with their neighbours, the Fallins. Their first contact with the civilization of the outside world comes when MacMurray, a young engineer, arrives to build a railroad line through their hills.

Miss Sydney is immediately fascinated by the stranger, and Fonda, who has always loved her, is aroused to jealousy that knows but one law—to fight and kill for the things he holds dear. But as he sets out after him, the climax that follows brings the film to a stirring conclusion.

featuring George Murphy and Virginia Grey; DOORS, a Miniature; HARNESTED RHYTHM, a Pete Smith Sports Parade subject showing the training and racing of trotting horses, and DEXTERITY, another Pete Smith Special. In the scoring rooms are SWING BANDITRY, a Tabloid Musical featuring George Stoll and his orchestra, and the Pete Smith Special, BEHIND THE HEADLINES. Jack Chertok is producer on all the subjects.

LIVING AT THE PACE THAT KILLS

"Slackening Of The Moral Code"

FEAR—THE ARCH-ENEMY

If anybody were to ask you, sir, or you, madam, how you were feeling, you would probably say:

"Well, there's nothing really the matter with me. But I feel rather worried—nerves on edge. It's hard to say why, you know."

Lord Horner, who is Physician-in-Ordinary to the King, had a good deal to say about that nerves-on-edge feeling of yours to-day—in a speech to the British Association in Blackpool.

And here are some of the things he said: Life has always had a certain amount of strain connected with it. That is the penalty we pay for living at all.

But the stress of modern life is excessive. The competition of living—it is almost platitudinous to speak of the anxiety connected with it, of the precariousness of life itself in the streets so that we seem in these days to live by accident rather than to die by it.

Then there are the exciting nature of our amusements and noise—needless, stupid, provocative, ill-mannered, selfish noise.

SEX FREEDOM

I will add another more subtle thing—the less recognisable slackening of the moral code in the direction of increased freedom for both sexes.

I cannot do better than quote the words of the poet: Me my unchartered freedom treads I feel the weight of chance desires.

Judgment will no doubt come in time in this matter as with others, but it had not come yet.

"THE GIBBERING MONKEY"

There is a notion afoot that science is largely responsible for much of the strain of modern life. I hold the view it was not too much science but too little science that has helped to get us into this trouble.

We need not drive the car so fast that it kills nor make a loud-speaker so loud that it deafens. Science was made for man and not man for science, and the one thing that really matters is control.

Mr. H. G. Wells has described civilisation as a motor car going at increasing speed with a gibbering monkey at the wheel impotent to check it.

Not complimentary—but terribly suggested.

A WORD FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

There is need for leisure—leisure for the artisan, factory worker, labourer, shopman and shopwoman: leisure for the housewife—a room of her own: leisure for all who grunt and sweat under a weary life.

I see little hope for the people of this country through a mass movement—Fascist or Communist. When individual freedom has been sacrificed, I see no chance of achieving that control in the spiritual sphere through which alone I think salvation can come to us.

What matters the colour of men's shirts if these are soon to be their shrouds? What matter their numbers? Falling birthrate in this country is causing some people concern. I am more concerned with quality than quantity, and I am quite unmoved.

"PARALYSING FEAR"

If we are given time and freedom from paralysing fear, the arch-enemy, we can reduce those strains of modern life by effecting a better adjustment in ourselves to the changing conditions of our time.

We can reduce the pace at which we live and we can achieve control.

DANCE

The Health and Strength will be holding another dance at Hotel Cecil on the October 10 at 8.30 p.m. By kind permission of Lieut. Col. R. M. Rodwell and officers of the Royal Ulster Rifles, the Popular dance orchestra of the regiment will be in attendance.

FASTEST CENTURY

Ames Qualifies For Lawrence Trophy

Leslie Ames, the Kent wicket-keeper-batsman, playing for an All-England XI against All-India at Folkestone, was in brilliant form recently and completed a century in 88 minutes.

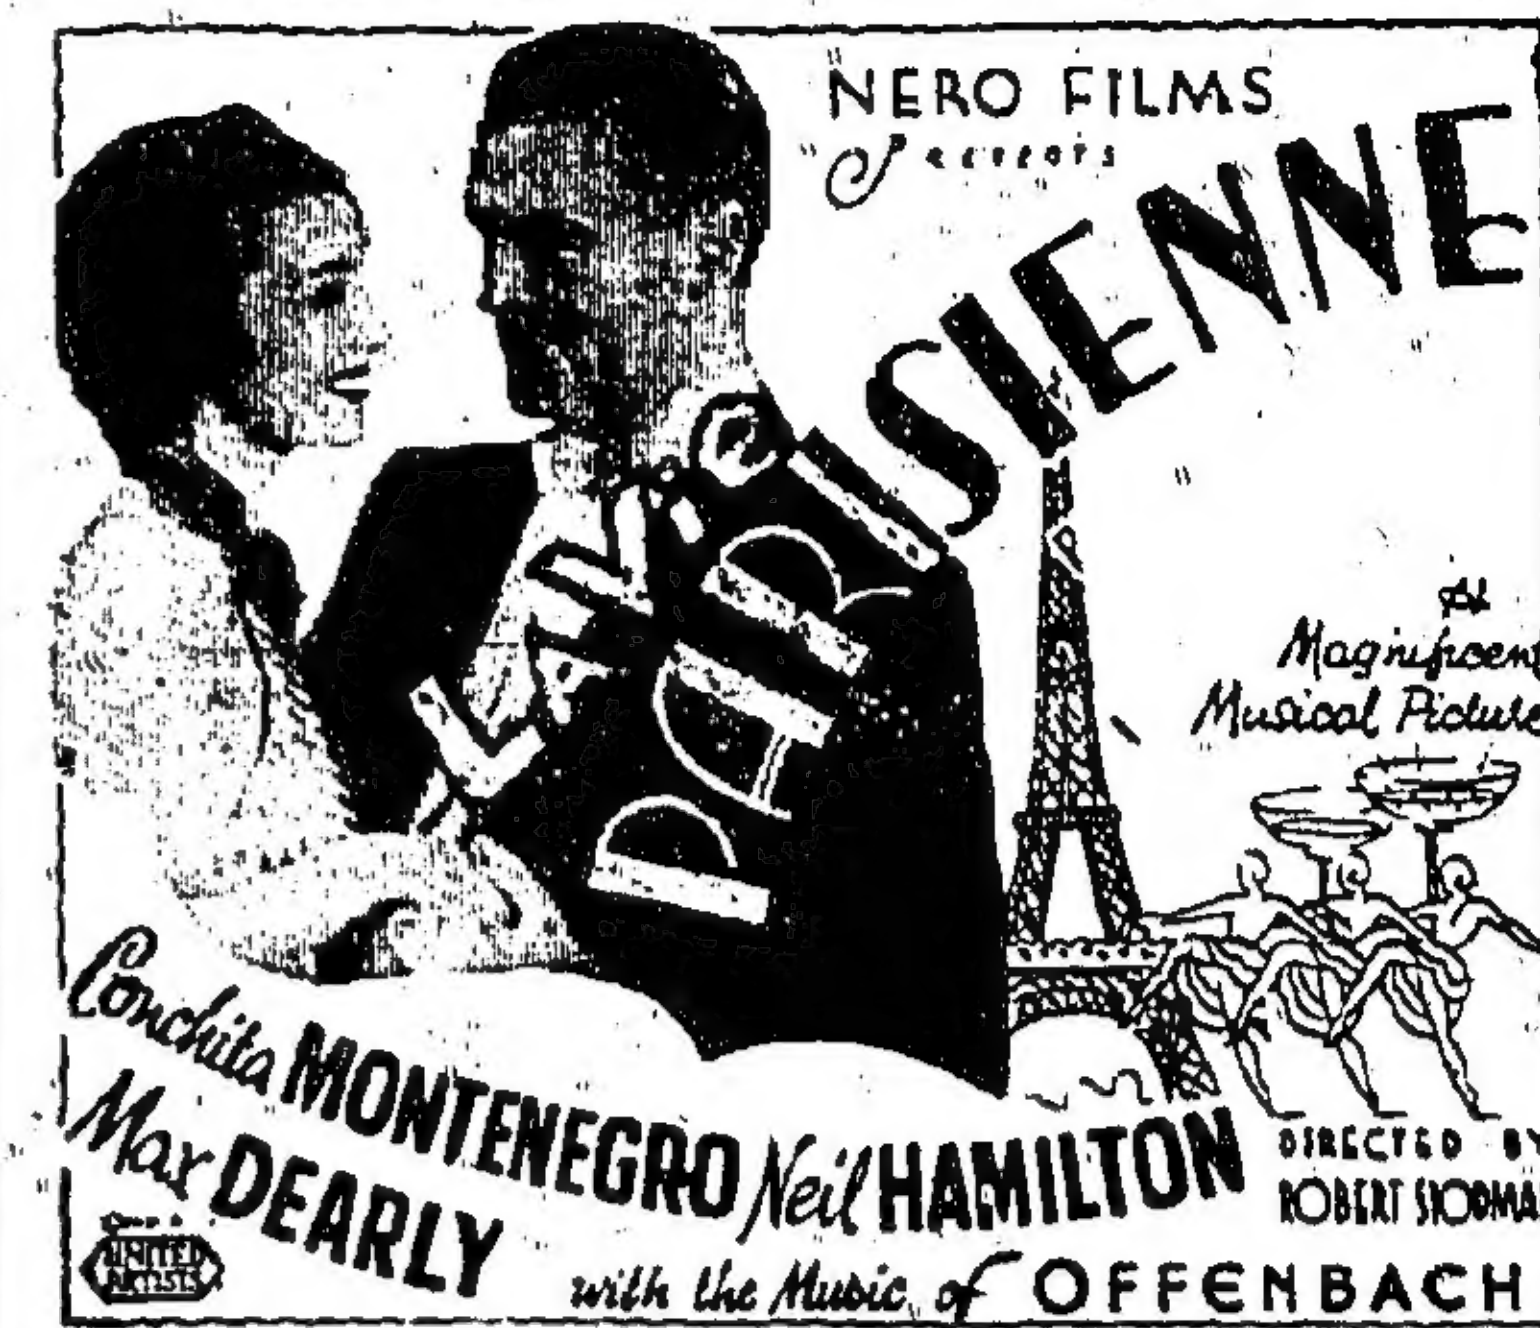

This is the fastest century of the season, and qualifies Ames for the "Sir Walter Lawrence" Trophy, which is accompanied by an order on a London store for 100 guineas. The previous fast century in this season was by R. C. M. Kimpton, of Oxford University, who on May 22 last obtained three figures against Lancashire in 70 minutes.

For the greater part of the season Ames was unable to take part in first-class cricket owing to muscular rheumatism, but since his return to the game a few weeks ago he has been in wonderful form and fully merits his inclusion in the team for Australia.

It will be remembered that last season Gumbrell, the Somerset professional, won the Lawrence prize by scoring 100 in 63 minutes—in his first county match, by the way.

Over 100,000 Heroin Pills SEVERAL WOMEN CHARGED

Charged with possession and making of dangerous drugs without a licence, on September 12, at 99, Leighton Hill Road, first floor, Li Sin-kiu, 44, widow, Chan Sam, 32, unemployed, and four widows, Wong Yak-lu, 20, Kam Wai-ling, 31, Lo Chan, 55, and Chan Sui-lum, 32, appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Mr. M. J. Abbott prosecuted for the Crown, while Mr. M. A. da Silva defended.

It was stated that 23lbs. of powder of crude heroin; pink mass for pills, and 103,750 pills were found on the premises.

On September 12 about 10 a.m. Mr. H. A. Taylor and R. O. Grimmit went to 99, Leighton Hill Road, and knocked on the door which was opened by the fourth defendant.

There was a strong smell of drying heroin pills. Mr. Grimmit saw a woman running down the passage-way. He gave chase and caught her just as she was climbing over a parapet.

First defendant admitted she was the principal tenant.

One of the rooms was used for making the pills and the another room for drying them. On examining their hands all except two defendants had pink stains.

The defendants were then taken to No. 2 Police Station.

First defendant said that her master had gone to Shanghai, and that she was looking after the flat. Evidence was called after which the hearing was adjourned.

JAPANESE FINED

Wanchai Incident Sequel

RICKSHAW DAMAGED

A Japanese, Baba Hatsuaro, 40, laundryman, pleaded not guilty to three charges for having failed to pay the fare rickshaw hire at Wanchai Road on Monday; damaging the rickshaw; and behaving in a disorderly manner by shouting and jumping out of the dock at No. 2 Police Station, when he appeared before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy yesterday on remand.

Sergt. J. Galvin stated that the defendant engaged a rickshaw about 1 a.m. at Jaffe Road. He told the rickshaw coolie that he was drunk, and when the coolie asked for his fare, the defendant refused to pay. The coolie alleged that the defendant had assaulted him.

The complainant then took the defendant to the police station and made a report.

Sergt. Galvin, then sent a Chinese constable to get the defendant, who was in the act of stripping off the number plate from the vehicle.

The defendant came into the charge room, and alleged that the coolie had tried to rob him. He became excited and was put into the dock. While waiting for the Japanese interpreter the defendant jumped out of the dock and caused a great disturbance.

Sergt. Galvin added that the defendant was under the influence of drink, but was not drunk.

His Worship ordered defendant to pay the coolie 20 cents for the fare and 20 cents for compensation. Defendant was in addition fined $25 for disorderly behaviour and was bound over.

CHINESE KILLED

Suspected to have fallen or jumped from the first floor of Nathan Hotel, the body of an unknown Chinese found in Pakhol Street was moved to the Public Mortuary.

BICYCLE MISHAP

Fusiller Adams, R.W.F., has reported to the police to that while riding his bicycle near Boundary Street he knocked down Lui Tak, 35, causing him injuries which necessitated his removal to the Kowloon Hospital.

OPIUM FOUND In Hollow Of Kitchen Wall WIDOW FINED

Five Chinese appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday charged with the possession of prepared opium and raw opium, at No. 108 Des Voeux Road, West, first floor.

The first defendant pleaded guilty, and the remainder pleaded not guilty, and were discharged.

Det.-Sub-Inspector A. J. Johnson stated that when the flat was raided by the police last week, they found in the kitchen, clothing hanging on the wall. The clothing was removed, and tapping the wall, it was found to be hollow. The hanger which was covering this part of the wall was pulled off, and the opium was discovered in the cavity.

The first defendant, Fung Sim, 32, widow, was fined $2160 with the alternative of eight months' hard labour.

LARCENY BY FINDING

Money Picked Up In Hotel

Leung Ching-min was charged before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday with the theft of $200 by finding from Tong Lok, building contractor's foreman, at the Tai Lau Sin boarding house on Tuesday.

Defendant said that he picked the money up and intended returning it to the owner.

Det.-Sergeant Pilkington said that the complainant, who was living at the hotel, had occasion to leave his room, and in the passage dropped the money. The defendant was walking in the passage-way preceded by a room-boy who stepped on the notes. Defendant saw this and said that the money was his and was given it.

Complainant reported his loss to the manager, but the defendant had in the meantime left the premises. Defendant was traced and agreed to return $20 which he said was the money he had picked up.

The case was remanded to today.

SMOKE NUISANCE IN HARBOUR

Japanese Ship's Master Fined

Hamao Misaka, master of the O.S.K. s.s. Hong Kong Maru, was fined $25, in default one month's imprisonment, by Hon. Commander G. F. Hole (Harbour Master) at the Marine Court for unlawfully allowing such large quantities of smoke to issue from the funnel of the ship as to cause a nuisance between 11 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Messrs. T. E. Jackson and D. Kossick, of the Government Marine Surveyors' Office, deposed that the smoke was brought into their offices by the wind which came from the direction of the ship at the O.S.K.'s wharf in Connaught Road. The smoke came in such large quantities that it caused great inconvenience to the staff, who had their hands and face blackened as a result.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Mok Kin, 32, described as a kept woman, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy yesterday, for allegedly throwing corrosive fluid at Tong Tak-ning, at No. 168, Johnson Road, first floor on October 6.

Inspector A. E. Carey prosecuted. The case was remanded for 48 hours.

ALLEGED RAPE

William Clifford Morgan, of the Royal Welch Fusiliers, made another appearance before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday on a charge of rape of an 18-year-old girl, Li Pak-lin, at Lai-chikok on September 28. Hearing was fixed for this afternoon. Mr. G. S. Ford will appear for the defence.

TRIAD SOCIETY CASE ENDS

Denials Made By Defendants

ONE MAN GAOLED

The case in which five Chinese were charged with unlawfully being members of a Triad Society was concluded before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

The first defendant was sentenced to "nine months' hard labour while the other defendants were discharged.

Det.-Insp. A. H. Elston conducted the prosecution while Mr. F. I. Zimmerman appeared for Leung Chung Pak, one of the defendants.

All defendants gave evidence and stated that the premises where they were arrested was used as an opium divan.

Lok Kee, rope maker, stated that the third defendant had nothing to do with the Society.

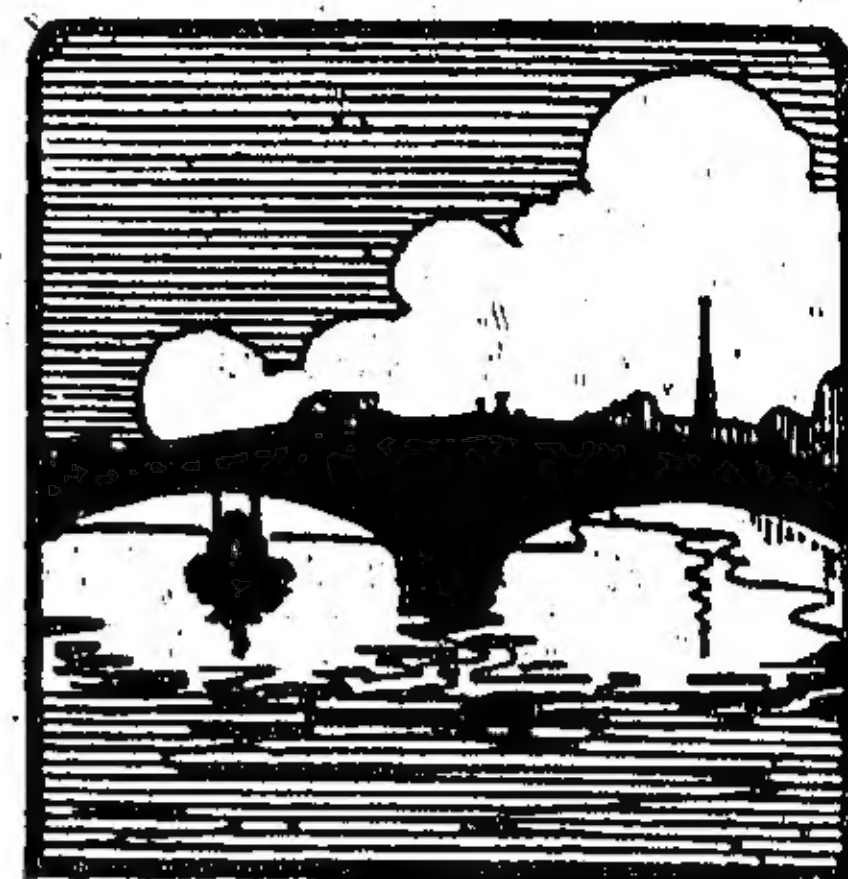

Fourth defendant denied taking part in the initiation ceremonial.

Mr. Zimmerman suggested that one of the witnesses for the prosecution, Ip Pin, had been coached in giving his testimony, and added that the fourth defendant's name was never mentioned in any of the documents found.

Inspector Elston stated that the witness had not been coached.

The second defendant was fined $50 with the alternative of six

ST. STEPHEN'S GIRLS' COLLEGE

Large Gathering Attend Annual Speech Day

LADY CALDECOTT PRESENTS CERTIFICATES

HEADMISTRESS'S REPORT

The hall of St. Stephen's Girls' College was filled to capacity with parents and pupils yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the School's annual Speech Day, over which the Hon. Dr. S. W. Two presided in the absence of the Bishop of Victoria.

Lady Caldecott, the wife of His Excellency the Governor, distributed the cup and certificates, and was herself the recipient of a beautiful basket of gladness.

Among those present were Sir William Hornell, Mr. G. R. Sayer, Director of Education, and Mrs. Sayer, Rev. H. W. Baines, Rev. J. R. Higgs, Rev. Chung Yan Luap, Rev. G. K. Carpenter, Mrs. W. K. Cheung, Mr. Andrew Cheung, Miss B. M. Pope and Miss M. N. Baxter.

The School report, presented by Miss D. Wise, Acting Headmistress, disclosed a year of splendid progress.

The pupils presented a pleasing programme of entertainment which was well received.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

The Hon. Dr. Two said:—In the absence of His Lordship the Bishop, I am requested to take the chair this afternoon on our Annual Speech Day. We are very grateful indeed to Lady Caldecott for the honour she confers on us, by coming to our function and her kindness in consenting to distribute the certificates and prizes. Her gracious presence here to-day gives our school great encouragement and adds luster and brightness to our proceedings. On behalf of the College Council, the staff and the students, I extend to you, Lady Caldecott, our most hearty welcome.

St. Stephen's Girls' College has, this year, completed its 30th year of labour. During the last 30 years, it has provided Chinese young ladies with modern education. Although when it first started, it was very difficult to induce Chinese parents to send their daughters to a public school. But when they did come, they came in closed sedan chairs. The idea being that they were afraid of being stared at by rude people in the streets. However, this barrier of conservatism soon broke down and girls are now taking up games, physical exercises, out-door sports and all other activities which a young lady should take part in. At the same time, St. Stephen's also expects all her alumnae to keep and preserve the best Chinese traditions of womanhood.

I will now call upon Miss Wise the Acting Headmistress to present her school report. (Applause.)

SCHOOL REPORT

The Acting Headmistress said:—Lady Caldecott, Dr. Two, Members of the Council, ladies and gentlemen, on behalf of the School I welcome you all here to-day. Especially do we all wish to extend our greetings to you, Lady Caldecott, on this your first visit to our school. I regret that our Principal, Miss Atkins, is not here in person to receive you, but she is with us in spirit to-day, and I am expressing what she would wish to say. We sincerely appreciate the honour you have done us in coming to present our certificates.

Miss Atkins went on leave last February and we are all looking forward to her return in the Spring.

The school year has been much as usual with its round of work and play. There have been the joys of friendship and of occasional success, and there have been sorrows too. Wong Shuk Luen, who matriculated with honours last year, passed away in August after a long illness. Her death was a great grief to us, for she was a most unselfish girl and beloved of all. Mr. Kwok Siu Lau, who passed away in June was a member of our Council and a benefactor of the school, his generous gifts having made possible the building and furnishing of the Hall in which we are now assembled, and which bears his name. Here we would pay tribute to his memory.

STAFF

There have not been many changes in the Staff. Last February Miss Macindoe came from Australia to join the Resident staff. Miss Pope returned from leave in England in February and Miss Buckland in August. With regard to the Chinese staff, Miss Chue Yut Lin joined us in September 1935, Mr. Ng To Ming and Miss Yue So Ching left in July of this year and Mr. Lam Shue Yan has come on the staff this term. Miss Griffin went on leave in June, and while she is away Miss Baxter is Acting Warden of St. Stephen's Hall, the C. M. S. Hostel for University Women.

Four girls matriculated in the School Leaving Certificate examination in June and have now gone on to the University to study in the Faculty of Arts. One girl gained the School Leaving Certificate and is now studying at Lingnam University in Canton. Several girls entered for various grades in the examinations held in Hong Kong by the Trinity College of Music, London, and were successful.

In November we were visited by the Inspector of English Schools who gave us some helpful criticism as well as encouragement.

SOCIAL SERVICE

The Social Service work has been carried on as usual through the year. The Free School, which is one of the activities of the Kwong Club, has been held on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 1.30 to 3.30 p.m. and has been well attended. One hundred and seventy children attended the Summer School held during the month of August and staffed by girls of Fairlea and St. Stephen's. A meeting is held at the end of the summer term when a Headmistress is chosen, timetables drawn up, and other details arranged.

The work of the M.C.L. Sale which we hold at the end of each year went on merrily during the Christmas term and the result of our effort was quite satisfactory. We were able to help different pieces of charitable work in which we are interested.

SPORT

Much interest in sport, chiefly netball and swimming has been shown. Both the Senior and Intermediate netball teams have put in some good work and the latter were the winners of the Cup presented by the Hong Kong Ladies Gymnastic Club for Intermediate Teams. We are entering a Junior team as well for the School Netball Association matches this year. Inter-form matches were well played and the Senior championship for last year goes to Form IV, and the Junior Championship to Form VI. The bathing parties, held on Wednesday afternoons during the summer term were very popular and there were many form picnics on Saturday afternoons.

The girls have enjoyed the Botany walks which they have had with Miss Blanchett, and Miss Macindoe, our two Science Mistresses.

There are many stamp collectors in both Upper and Lower Schools; we have a School album for which many girls have given stamps. Several of the girls also are keen photographers.

BOOKS

The girls are fond of reading, and when the Library is open every Tuesday and Friday the librarians are kept busy about thirty books being taken out each time. There are now 80 books in the Junior Library and 537 in the Senior. Books which have been shown on the films, or are about to be shown, are popular, such as "Little Women," "The Count of Monte Cristo," "A Tale of Two Cities," "David Copperfield," and others, so that it does not always follow that the cinema destroys a love of reading.

Some of the classes have had visits to different places of interest in Hong Kong and Kowloon

FAIRLEA SCHOOL

Golden Jubilee Celebrations

The Council and Staff of Fairlea C. M. S. School have issued invitations to the celebration of the founding of the school on Thursday, October 22, at 5.30 p.m. Mrs. Fok Ching Shan has kindly consented to distribute the certificates.

HEEP YUNN SCHOOL

On Friday, October 23, at 3 p.m., the ceremony of the laying of a stone in the new building of the C. M. S. Heep Yunn School to commemorate the union of two C. M. S. institutions Fairlea (1885) and Victoria Home (1887) in the founding of the C. M. S. Heep Yunn School, will take place. H. E. the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, has kindly consented to lay the stone.

—the Dairy Farm at Pokfulam, the Commercial Press Printing Works at North Point, the Water Works, the Kai Tak Aerodrome, and the Observatory. And here I would like to thank those in charge of these places for permission to visit them, and also those members of their staffs who were kind to give of their time to take these parties of school-girls round their works; and patient to explain things in language which was not too technical for them to understand.

CONFIRMATION

Two girls were confirmed in St. Stephen's Church in March. During last term two classes were held for enquirers, one for girls from Forms I to III, and one for girls from Forms IV and V. They were well attended. On behalf of the school I should like to thank those who have come to speak to us at Morning Assembly at different times during the year. We have listened to some very interesting addresses both in Chinese and in English on such different subjects as Nursing, Social Welfare, in Hong Kong, The League of Nations, and others. Miss Griffin brought some beautiful posters which had been exhibited at the League of Nations Poster Competition last year, and explained them to us in a very interesting way.

We have seen a good deal of many of our old girls during the year, when they have come to visit us here, or when we have joined with them in walking or bathing parties. Miss Atkins was disappointed at not being able to see more of those old girls who live in Shanghai on her way home last February. Her time there was very short, but she hopes to have an opportunity of seeing them on her way back in the Spring. Lai Chung Yue who matriculated last year gained one of the Bellios Medical Scholarships awarded on the results of the examination and is now studying in the Hong Kong University. There will be a special room in the school set apart for the old girls next year when there will be more space for us to spread out.

NEW SCHOOL

And this leads me to speak of the changes which we shall be making then. Miss Atkins, in her report last year, spoke of these changes. The staff and students of the C.M.S. Vernacular Middle School, Fairlea, who have shared this building with us since 1923, will be moving over to Kowloon to their new school, "Heep Yunn" early next year. We shall miss their co-operation with us in the M.C.L. Sale, the Summer School, in our Sunday visits to the Hospital, and in many other ways. We wish them every happiness in their new home and shall look forward to the times when their teams will come to play netball matches with ours, and when we shall go to them.

Before I conclude, I should like to express my personal thanks to the members of the staff, both Chinese and British, and to those older girls who have helped me since Miss Atkins left. Responsibilities are made much lighter when one has many helpers who are so ready to go the second mile. As we stand on the threshold of a new school year, I hope we shall all enter it, both in our school relationships and beyond them too, in the spirit of Kipling's words:—

"The game is more than the players of the game
And the ship is more than the crew." (Applause.)

LADY CALDECOTT THANKED

The Hon. Dr. Two said:—It is extremely kind of Lady Caldecott to have come and distributed the prizes. I am sure that every student who got a prize will treasure it the more because it was received from the hands of Lady Caldecott.

Lady Caldecott has only been in the Colony for a few months. But by her gracious personality and charming manners and by the great interest she takes in all public institutions whether educational, charitable or otherwise, she has already won the hearts of all who have come into contact with her.

On behalf of the College Council, the staff and the students, I tender you, Lady Caldecott, our heartfelt thanks.

Now ladies and gentlemen, I will ask you all to second my vote of thanks to Lady Caldecott by a hearty clapping of hands.

PUBLIC WARNED

Advertisements For Bulbs

We have received the following communication from the Acting Consul General for the Netherlands (Mr. G. M. Byvanck) for publication:—

The Editor,

"The Hong Kong Daily Press,"
Sir—I have the honour to inform you that I have been requested by my Government to warn the general public against taking any notice of advantageous offers of bulbs as often advertised by Netherlands bulb-growers in newspapers, periodicals and magazines without making inquiries beforehand at the nearest Netherlands Legation or Consulate as such advertisements are often inserted by unscrupulous persons with fraudulent intentions and the members of the Netherlands Bulb Growers Association have agreed not to advertise in newspapers, etc., for the purpose of selling directly to the public.

I shall be very grateful if you would kindly cause a warning to this effect to be put in the editorial columns of your newspaper.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,
G. M. BYVANCK,
Acting Netherlands
Consul General.
Hong Kong, 8th October, 1936.

WEEKLY RETURN OF TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

29 PERSONS INJURED: ONE KILLED

Traffic accident returns for Hong Kong and Kowloon for the week ended October 3 show that 29 persons were injured, of whom 14 were removed to hospital, and one was killed. There were 63 accidents.

There were 30 collisions between vehicles resulting in four persons being injured, and one killed.

Accidents caused by pedestrians running across the road totalled, 12; walking on or off or falling off a vehicle when in motion, 7; vehicles running off the road, 3; vehicles overturning, one; vehicles colliding with objects, two.

EXPRESSION OF THANKS

We have received the following from the Hon. Secretary of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul:—
The Committee of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul desire to express publicly through the medium of your popular Paper, their most grateful thanks and appreciation to the Hong Kong Portuguese Amateur Artists for the production of "Million-Airs on Parade" which they voluntarily gave at the Club de Recreio on the 13th, and at the Craigengower Club on the 27th ultimo, respectively.

The result of these performances has greatly helped the Society to continue its good work among the poor of this Colony.

Our sincere thanks are also due to the Club de Recreio and the Craigengower Club for placing the Club's hall and grounds at our disposal, and for the loans of chairs etc.; to the China Provident Loan and Mortgage Co., Ltd. for their kindness in arranging for the transportation of the chairs, stage etc.; to the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd. for the loan of their spotlights to the Press for valuable publicity; and to all others, not here mentioned, who contributed in any way towards the success of the Concerts.

WEDDINGS

The forthcoming weddings are announced of Mr. Mariano Cathrino Maria da Silva, of 15, Ashley Road, and Miss Kathleen Mary Maxwell, residing at 37, Hankow Road, Kowloon; Mr. David Maxwell Cole, master mariner, of Hong Kong, and Miss Jane Noble Edwards, nursing sister, Government Civil Hospital.

WHEN SILENCE MAY BE COSTLY

There are occasions when silence may be costly, and although it cannot be said that the proceedings at the meeting yesterday of the Legislative Council were characterised by any error of vocal omission—indeed, the speeches did not even err in the matter of brevity—yet it must be regretfully confessed that comparatively little articulation was given to thoughts on a subject of major importance which can be conveniently grouped under the comprehensive heading of "social services". True, the Governor referred appreciatively to the excellent work which a variety of organisations are voluntarily effecting in a community which so sorely needs such help, but apart from some very cogent comments in the well tempered speech by the Honourable Mr. M. K. Lo, it would seem that this very vital aspect of the Administration does not command the enthusiastic support of those whose talents endow them with adequate qualifications for fearless leadership.

In his critical analysis of the Budget, the Honourable Mr. Lo pointed out that in a proposed expenditure of $32,259,160, only $7,099,323 was available for such purposes as those which included social services.

Here is the manner in which he dismissed this aspect of the subject. "It is obvious that in

ROYAL AIR FORCE

Commander Al Ismailia

Wing Commander F. H. Coleman, D.S.O., whose appointment in command of the R.A.F. station at Ismailia was announced on Sept. 23, was posted to this station in October last after duty as senior personnel staff officer in the Coastal Area at home.
Wing Commander Coleman was awarded the D.S.O. for gallant and distinguished service in the operations in the Penjwin area of Iraq in the spring of 1927, when he commanded No. 30 (Bomber) Squadron. He has had over 20 years' service with the R.F.C. and R.A.F., and was formerly in the Hong Kong Volunteer Corps and The Middlesex Regiment.

Increased provision for Primary Education, an intensive campaign to rid the Colony of Malaria, Slum Clearing, a Leper Asylum, and other urgent social projects must await better times.

When the attitude of a Government is such that "provision for urgent social projects must await better days" is accepted as a policy without appreciable criticism; then, to say the least, it is a somewhat sorry state of affairs.

There are many social service matters affecting Europeans as well as Chinese, which demand attention, and the defeatist attitude adopted without demur by the Legislative Council that we must placidly "wait for better times" is as depressing as unscientific.

Propound a policy over a period of years which will be calculated to promote very necessary social services, and in an alert community such as this it will not be doubted that some progress will be the desirable result.

CHIANG-KAWAGOE MEETING
TREMENDOUS INTEREST IN JAPAN

Opinion Leans Towards Pessimism

Tokyo, October 8.
The meeting in Nanking to-day between Mr. Kawagoe, Japanese Ambassador, and General Chiang Kai-shek, which is generally held to indicate the resumption of Sino-Japanese negotiations, has aroused tremendous interest in Japan.
Japanese opinion concerning the outcome leans towards pessimism.

General Chiang on one hand will make every effort to remove the Sino-Japanese deadlock subject to protection of China's sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity.

Mr. Kawagoe on the other hand will probably take a strong attitude, demanding the Generalissimo's recognition in principle of every item brought forward by Japan.

On the basis of this interview General Chiang and Mr. Kawagoe will decide whether Sino-Japanese negotiations are likely to succeed or fail and act accordingly.—Reuter.

CLOSED TOGETHER

Nanking, Oct. 8.
Heralding the resumption of negotiations for the adjustment of Sino-Japanese problems, the Japanese Ambassador called on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek at 10 o'clock this morning, at the private residence of Dr. H. H. Kung, Finance Minister, in the Mausoleum, Park.
At 11.30 a.m. the two were still closed together.—Reuter.

MEETING ENDS

Nanking, Oct. 8.
Three weeks of the explosive Sino-Japanese tension ended this morning when the momentous two-hour meeting between General Chiang Kai-shek and Mr. Kawagoe agreed to resume the negotiations for readjustment of relations broken off on September 23.

The meeting ended shortly before noon. Nothing was divulged about what transpired, but it is understood that an official communiqué will be issued.

Although the event is ostensibly a courtesy call by the Japanese Ambassador on the President of the Executive Yuan, great political importance is attached to the meeting which all quarters agree bears great significance to the future of Sino-Japanese relations.
Meanwhile the Japanese Embassy has issued a statement to the effect that General Chiang expressed regret at the recent incidents, adding that Sino-Japanese relations should be readjusted in a spirit of mutual confidence and equality. Replying to Mr. Kawagoe, it is hoped the Chinese Government would show good faith in dealing with these incidents so that both nations might co-operate in the common aim of establishing peace in the Orient.—Reuter.

KAWAGOE PLEASED

Nanking, Oct. 8.
Emerging smilingly from the conference, Mr. Kawagoe said that he was deeply impressed by General Chiang Kai-shek's sincerity which he hoped would be translated into action.

An emergency meeting of the Japanese Embassy officials presided over by Mr. Kawagoe passed a "vote of confidence" in General Chiang Kai-shek's assurance of his desire to co-operate in the solution of outstanding Sino-Japanese differences.

Later, Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Eggeson called on General Chiang Kai-shek, who is understood to have acquainted the British Ambassador with the result of the conference with Mr. Kawagoe.—Reuter.

THE ARRIVAL OF TELEVISION

Large And Small Pictures

LEADING THE WORLD

Television has arrived. Eight transmissions of the two new high definition systems, installed at Alexandra Palace, were given recently, and thousands at Radio-Lympia have been their first acquaintance with the new art, an art which will have a profound effect on many of our social habits and customs, writes a London wireless correspondent.

"Better than I thought!" "Is that all?" "When will television receivers be a reasonable price?" "Good as the talkies; but rather small." These are a fair sample of the comments heard in the viewing booths at Olympia.

With regard to the quite usual comment that the pictures seem rather on the small side, I had the opportunity of seeing, working in the same room, the Scophony home receiver and the same firm's medium screen apparatus giving a picture 5 feet by 4 feet. There were a number of others with me and not one of us would look at the small screen. The big picture, though it had not so much apparent detail as the small one, seemed more lifelike. It also matched better the volume of the speech and music coming from the loud-speaker.

The cinema has made us used to big pictures; but it also seems to be a fact that big moving pictures satisfy the eye better than small ones. With small pictures one has the feeling of straining to see better.

GOOD ADVERTISEMENT

The programmes which have been hurriedly arranged by the B.B.C. are an excellent advertisement of the service which will be properly started in October. The documentary film, "Form Cover to Cover," giving very shortly the history of writing and printing and the making of a book, is a good piece of work. That kind of thing will always be welcome. The film criticism, with excerpts of coming films, is fascinating even in the way it is now being done, with bits and pieces hurriedly assembled. The news is also intriguing.

Those who have had the opportunity of seeing what has been done recently in the United States, Germany, and France are unanimous in stating that British television leads the world. For this some credit must be given to the investigating committee, which cunningly put on two great firms, Baird Television and Marconi-E.M.I. the onus of producing something worth while. The rivalry has been the very best thing possible for television in this country.

On the other hand most experts consider that it is unfortunate that we should now have two separate systems working side by side. The B.B.C. is known to favour a single standard and would like to have the power to take what they consider best from the two systems.

In Germany and the United States manufacturers have told their Governments that one standard is essential. We have one system using straight scanning and another using interlaced scanning. The general opinion seems to be that the B.B.C. should be allowed to choose one or the other and stick to it. From the public point of view it does not matter which is chosen; both are very good. But the number of pictures a second should be raised, at once, to fifty a second. Television would then be as flickerless as the cinema. So say the experts and they insist that the change should be made before the public service starts.

TA/K SIMPLIFIED

The dual system policy is all against the marketing of a cheap receiver. It also makes very difficult the perfecting of systems using other methods than that of the cathode-ray tube. The inventor and engineer with only one system to tackle has his task much simplified.

The firms who are prepared to sell television receivers, Bush Radio (Baird system), H.M.V., Eiko (Scophony system), Marconi, Cosmo, and the General Electric Company, are all of opinion that there will be considerable initial sales even at the high prices asked for home receivers, but that prices must, of course, be brought down. Television is for the many, not for the few. Scophony, who have, so far, the only successful system of directly projecting big pictures, are inclined to pin their faith on tele-

SWATOW LETTER

New Life Movement Enforced

NO SMOKING IN STREETS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, Oct. 1.
A stroll along the main road and malooos to-day reveals that the New Life Movement has been put into effect.

According to freely distributed handbills five headings are embodied—Traffic Regulations, Curfew, Dress, Health (Hygiene) and Improper Advertisements.

Traffic: All regulations have been made clear to the public; the white lines "were a matter of puzzle" when first painted yesterday, to the more illiterate folks. To-day, special policemen were controlling traffic and teaching pedestrians to keep to the left. It will be sometime before people get used to it. Other regulations for motor vehicles, trucks, etc. are the same as in foreign countries, except that a 15 m.p.h. is stipulated. Hawkers and special salesmen must discontinue making unnecessary noise in advertising the wares for sale. Signboards hung across the streets must be at least 15 feet high from the ground and properly fastened, so as not to endanger traffic. No two persons are permitted to ride on one bicycle, and no rickshaws are allowed to transport poultry in future.

CURFEW OR STIPULATED HOURS

Some of the prohibitions are rather interesting. The hotels and restaurants are to close their business by 2 a.m. and places of amusements at 12 midnight. The business of the night hawkers is restricted also to midnight. Church bells are limited to ten strokes only, as otherwise they confuse with fire-alarm bells. All beggars found in the streets hereafter will be sent to the House of Detention, whilst poultry and animals must be controlled. (This will nicely eradicate the bad habit of allowing the chickens, ducks, pigs to run about everywhere). Street sleepers must find quarters elsewhere.

Dress: The traditional habit of men going about top naked during the hot weather is to be stamped out, particularly in the public thoroughfares, as it is considered immoral.

PUBLIC HEALTH

Great attention is paid to it. All the malooos must be kept scrupulously clean; no rubbish of any description is to be thrown there, specially fish bones, and herbs after being used as medicine.

Improper and immoral advertisements cannot be exhibited in public places. Posters advertising medicine and pills for V.D. are to be controlled. Exhibition in public thoroughfares signifies impropriety.

Smoking in the streets is strictly prohibited. Policemen to-day seeing people smoke just approached them, snatched the cigarettes, put out the fire and returned to them.

SCREEN MASKING MILITARY AID NEUTRALITY PACT VIOLATION

Soviet Allegations Against Three Powers

London, October 8.
A communication which was made yesterday to Lord Plymouth by M. Kagan, Soviet Charge d'Affaires in London, cites alleged violations of the non-intervention pact by Portugal, Germany and Italy. It declares that the "Soviet Government can in no circumstances agree to transform the non-intervention agreement into a screen masking military aid to the insurgents against the lawful Spanish Government by certain parties to the agreement."

The statement added that the Soviet Government would consider itself free from all obligations on the non-intervention agreement unless violations by other countries were immediately discontinued. This communication will be discussed at the full meeting of the Non-Intervention Committee to-morrow.—British Wireless.

Moscow, Oct. 8.
Soviet Russia threatens to disregard the non-intervention pact regarding Spain, according to the Soviet Press, which published a declaration handed to the President of the International Non-Intervention Committee now meeting in London by the Soviet Delegation.

The statement of Soviet Russia protests against the infringement of the pact by other powers, and ends by stating that "if these infringements do not cease immediately, Soviet Russia will feel itself freed from all obligations arising out of the Non-Intervention Pact."

SOVIET THREAT

London, Oct. 8.
The Soviet Government's threats to abrogate the non-intervention pact concerning the Spanish civil war are causing grave misgivings, according to diplomatic commentators in Britain and elsewhere.

Reports from Geneva say that League of Nations circles are apprehensive that the Soviet may follow up its threat by openly supporting the Spanish Government. M. Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian Foreign Commissar, has hitherto been dissuaded with difficulty from raising the question of intervention at formal League meetings.

In Paris well-informed quarters believe Madrid may hold out against the insurgents another month, in which case the Soviet would have plenty of time to supply large quantities of aeroplanes, ammunition and other war materials.

The re-opening of the non-intervention question would result in severe internal tension, vastly accentuating the Government's difficulties. It is felt in Paris.

ROME VIEWS

Despatches from Rome state authoritative quarters regard the Soviet move as arbitrary and unwarranted. It is denied that arms and aeroplanes have been sent to Spain since the embargo was promulgated.

Some quarters suggest the Soviet action is due to irritation in consequence of the recent successes of the Rightist armies.

Meanwhile, in London, Mr. Clement Attlee, Labour leader, and Mr. Arthur Greenwood, as a deputation from the Labour Conference in Edinburgh, have gone to London to submit to Mr. Neville Chamberlain, acting Prime Minister, evidence of alleged supplies of planes, arms and men to the Spanish insurgents from Portugal, Italy and Germany.—Reuter

SERIES OF VIOLATIONS

Moscow, Oct. 7.
Charging Germany and Portugal with a series of violations of the non-intervention pact in Spain, the Soviet Government has informed the London Committee of Nations, which administers the neutrality agreement, that it will consider withdrawing from the accord if immediate measures are not taken to prevent further violations.

The Moscow communique cites instances of violation of the pact given the Russian Government by the Spanish Foreign Minister at Geneva. It mentions among other things, that since the beginning of the rebellion the Portuguese frontier districts have been used as rebel bases and a source of ammunition supply.

The communique asserts that 12 big German aeroplanes arrived at Tetuan on September 20 and transported rebel troops to Seville, where 14 other dismantled German

PEOPLE SHOT DAILY

Escaped Author's Disclosures

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Burgos, Oct. 8.
An average of 25 persons have been shot daily for the last seven weeks by the Communists and Anarchists in the city of Santander, according to the well-known Spanish author Conrado Blanco, who just succeeded in escaping from there and reached Burgos.

Blanco further reports that in a ship in the harbour there are 1,200 hostages, and that a belt of mines has been laid round the vessel in order to prevent their escape. The authorities, so Blanco reports, are completely powerless, and even persons acquitted by the so-called "Peoples' Tribunals" are immediately shot by the Anarchists.

It is reported here that the Nationalist troops have occupied the town of Almaden in the Province of Ciudad, which is known for its mercury mines.

Colonel Yague, Commander-in-Chief of the Moroccan troops in Spain confirmed the broadcast message that the Nationalists are in complete control of the Straits of Gibraltar. Referring to the advance on Madrid, Colonel Yague said that the capital would be taken whenever the Nationalist Supreme Command decided that the moment for the attack had come.—Transocean News Service

MADRID WAR REPORT

Oviedo Bombardment Continues

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Paris, Oct. 8.

Reports from Madrid report that the War ministry late on Wednesday night issued a long and optimistic report of the military situation on the various fronts. The bulletin states that the bombardment of Oviedo is still continuing, and it is stated that the fall of the city is imminent.

The Madrid front, it is said, is comparatively quiet, with the exception of an enemy attack on Seville, which is reported as successfully repulsed.—Transocean News Service planes had arrived from Hamburg, via Portugal, on September 7. The Spanish Government had received on September 29 a report of the transport of poison gases and munitions of Italian origin to the Spanish border, from Lisbon, it was claimed.

ARMS VIA PORTUGAL

The communique also points out that the many witnesses examined by the Committee in London, and also numerous correspondents of big newspapers who publish their personal observations, confirm the supply of the rebels with armaments, primarily via Portugal, continues on a large scale.

The Soviet fears that such a situation created by the repeated violation of the non-intervention pact renders the agreement virtually non-existent. The Soviet cannot agree to transforming the pact into a screen sheltering the military aid which is going to the rebels from certain participants in the agreement. Thus, if the violations are not discontinued, the Soviet will consider itself free from any obligations resulting from the pact, the communique declares.—Reuter

BELGIAN COMPLAINT

Brussels, Oct. 7.
The General Council of the Socialist Party here has passed a resolution declaring the Non-Intervention Pact with respect to the Spanish civil war is a betrayal of democracy, and demanding that the whole question be re-opened.

PLOT TO WRECK SOVIET UNION

Accusation Against Radek

Moscow, Oct. 8.

Following the official admittance of Radek's arrest, the "Pravda" states that a widespread plot to wreck Soviet industry, transport and agriculture was alleged to have been admitted by leading Trotskyites.

The newspaper alleges that Radek and others "served as spies and wreckers of the Soviet Union for the glory of their Imperialist and Fascist bosses in order to hasten their return to power. Revolutionary vengeance and no mercy is the only answer the Trotskyites band of scoundrels need expect."

LEAGUE INVITATION TO POLAND

German Criticism Over Danzig Affairs

Berlin, Oct. 7.

There has been sharp criticism in German circles at the invitation of the League of Nations Council to the Polish Government to seek some means of settling the unsatisfactory state of affairs in Danzig.

It is claimed the Council's request aims at disrupting the friendly relations between Germany and Poland.

Herr Greiser, President of the Danzig Assembly, who in the past has defied the league and who is responsible for the removal of Mr. Sean Lester, Irish High Commissioner of Danzig, has written a letter to Geneva protesting against the Secretary-General having called the debate on the Danzig situation at such short notice. The warning was so little as to make it impossible for him to send a delegate to the League meeting, he said.—Reuter's Bulletin Service

The quarrel between Major Fey and Prince Starhemberg for the leadership of the Home guards, assumed a very personal angle, when Major Fey challenged Prince Starhemberg to a duel, after the latter had made insinuating allegations concerning Major Fey's behaviour at the death of Dollfus.

Major Fey maintains that he has been appointed leader of the Vienna section, and that in the rest of the country 80 per cent. of the Home guards members demand Starhemberg's dismissal, whilst for instance in Carinthia and the Tyrol the entire Province is against Starhemberg.—Transocean News Service

M. Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Foreign Affairs Commissar, made a strong appeal for some immediate action, but the general feeling was against the matter being rushed. Subscribers to the League of Nations will have an appreciable windfall next year, when, owing to devaluation of the Swiss franc,

BRITISH TRADE WITH PERU

New Agreement Signed

London, Oct. 7.

A trade agreement between the United Kingdom and Peru was signed at Lima on Tuesday and is to come into force on the exchange of the ratifications. The tariff Articles of the agreement are to take effect provisionally in about a week's time.

The agreement provides for reciprocal most-favoured nation treatment of goods in respect of Customs duties, Customs formalities and import prohibitions, and also in respect of the exercise of commerce and industry in general. Peru undertakes to accord benevolent treatment to the public utility and other undertakings in Peru in which British capital is invested.

The United Kingdom goods enumerated in a schedule annexed to the agreement are not to be subjected in Peru to Customs duties higher than those specified in the schedule. The scheduled rates represent reductions of the higher duties fixed in February 1935 by the new Peruvian Customs tariff in respect of various classes of cotton, woollen, linen and artificial silk, fabrics, and some other classes of goods of interest to the United Kingdom. Conventionalisations of the Peruvian tariff rates of duty have been secured in respect of numerous classes of goods of United Kingdom origin.

As regards the tariff treatment of Peruvian products, the United Kingdom undertakes to maintain the duty-free admission for Peruvian raw cotton, cinchona bark and specified varieties of wool, and not to levy a duty of more than 10 per cent. ad valorem on Peruvian raw balata-tara and raw guano.—British Wireless

RE-ALIGNMENT OF CURRENCIES

Progress Of Movement

London, Oct. 7.

The progress of the movement for the reduction of trade barriers, following the realignment of currencies inaugurated by the Franco-British-American declarations of September 28, was demonstrated again in yesterday's proceedings of the Second Commission of the Assembly. The Swiss delegate, M. Stucki, said that his Government had devalued principally to show its willingness to participate in an international gesture towards economic recovery, and announced that Switzerland would progressively reduce her tariffs.

The Czechoslovakian delegate, M. Veverka, said that his Government had taken up the study of the question of abolishing exchange control in order to secure abolition as quickly as possible.
M. van Lanschot (The Netherlands) intimated that his country had abolished quotas on leather, furniture and linoleum, and that other quotas would be withdrawn as a step in the direction of wiping out the hindrances to trade.—British Wireless

DEVALUATION OF CZECH CROWN

The bill providing for the devaluation of the Czech crown was passed late on Wednesday night after an exhaustive debate, by the Budget Committee. In the course of the debate members of the Government and the majority parties stressed that the devaluation coefficient which was first fixed at 15.98 per cent. was too low, and would at least have to be 17.25 per cent. which would put the devaluation of the crown on the same base as the French franc.

H.M.S. MEDWAY IN KEELUNG FORMOSAN ARMY ACCUSATION

Alleged Photographing In Forbidden Area

Taihoku, October 9.

A charge that the Chief Paymaster of H.M.S. Medway photographed a wireless station and fortified zone in Keelung from the deck of H.M.S. Medway was issued by the headquarters of the Formosan Army which view the incident as of a "grave nature." The case was referred to Tokyo.

The statement adds that the "unfortunate affair shows a lack of commonsense and discipline much to be regretted."

Japanese authorities state that the name of the paymaster is P. H. Dallas, but it cannot be traced in the Navy List.

Earlier reports alleged that three officers who used cameras were observed by a policeman apparently through a telescope. Japanese officials boarded H.M.S. Medway and received the films which when developed were alleged to have shown that seven photographs were taken in a forbidden area.—Reuter

Indian Assembly Debate

Simla, Oct. 8.

The debate in the Assembly on the motion to adjourn, consequent on the failure of the Government of India to revise the currency exchange policy, resulted in a tie of 52-52. The President gave his casting vote in favour of the status quo.—Reuter

SWEDISH AVIATOR SAFE

London, Oct. 8.

Fears that the Atlantic had claimed another were dispelled last night by the receipt of a radio message that the French trawler Imbrin, off the west coast of Ireland, had picked up the Swedish aviator, Bjorkvall.

He left New York on Tuesday at 7.30 to fly to Stockholm and no word of him had been received since his departure until the message from the Imbrin came through.

Bjorkvall left behind the Baroness von Blixen-Finecke, who was scheduled to fly the ocean with him. She watched him leave, in tears. The aviator feared the passenger's extra weight would be fatal to his adventure.—Reuter

FORTIFICATIONS IN PACIFIC

Britain's Proposal To America

Washington, Oct. 7.

Great Britain's proposal to extend the Pacific non-fortification clauses of the Washington Treaty, which expire at the end of this year in the ordinary course of events, was discussed by the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Claude Swanson, and the Assistant Secretary, Admiral William Standley, to-day.

Earlier, the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, approached the United States Government on behalf of His Majesty's Government, while in Tokyo Sir Robert Clive, Ambassador to Japan, simultaneously proposed consideration of the suggestion.

At a Navy Department press conference here, Mr. Swanson indicated that the United States could not take the initiative in the matter.

Mr. Swanson warned, at the same time, that in the absence of any agreement the United States Navy was fully prepared to match building activities, of any other power in the Far Eastern area. He added that fortifications are intended to answer fortifications.

One menace must be met by another menace, he said.

The State Department is also considering the proposal. It has been pointed out in London that failure to reach an agreement might lead to a race to fortify naval bases in the Far East.—Reuter

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR GOEMBOES

Munich, Oct. 7.

The Fuehrer and Reichs Chancellor, Adolf Hitler, arrived here punctually at 4 p.m. to attend the memorial service for General Julius Goemboes, the late Hungarian Premier, in front of the Fuehrer, two Blackcoat troopers carried a huge wreath of yellow chrysanthemums.

Six German Infantry Lieutenants guarded the body, which lay in state in the Imperial Hall. Among the mourners were Frau Goemboes, his two sons, the Hungarian Minister for Agriculture and deputy Premier, the President of the Hungarian Chamber of Representatives, the Hungarian Chief of Staff, six officers of the army of the Hungarian Minister in Berlin, the Italian Ambassador in Berlin, Minister General Goerring, Baron von Neurath, Dr. Frick, as well as the members of the Bavarian Government.—Transocean News Service

LATE PREMIER OF HUNGARY

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Vienna, Oct. 8.

I expect all the entrants to accept in the Kwanzi Handicap. First Section, over 1 mile for "C" Class ponies. The distance should be more to Ribble's liking than heretofore and Mr. P. P. Botelho, the jockey, can be relied upon to get the most out of his mount. The main opposition will come from Bright View (S. Y. Liang). The pony has been performing extremely well during the morning gallops and last Sunday morning covered the mile and a quarter in 2:35-2/5, last quarter 30-2/5. Pontiac Bay (L. G. Frost) and Royal Consort (G. A. Harriman) are both in excellent condition and will need watching. Laughing Girl (N. Dietz) with only 140 lbs. to carry would be worth backing as an outsider.

"Electron" (N. Dietz) should provide the J.E.D. stable with some upkeep money in the Canberra Handicap for "A" Class Australian Ponies over about 1 mile and 155 yards. This pony put up a splendid performance in finishing behind Strathroy over 5 furlongs in record time at the last meeting. Vixen Tor (B. A. Frouk) will undoubtedly come along with the usual sensational burst over the last quarter and should run close. Bag Tor (Davis), Bobnak Star (Ip Kui Ying), Double Finesse (H. M. Pih), Saucy Face (Y. T. Fung) and Yo Ho (H. C. Pih) will also accept.

SUB-GRIFFINS AUTUMN PLATE

The best of this year's sub-griffins will go to the post for the main event of the day over 1 1/4 miles. Punters need hardly look further than the Eu Tong Sen stable to provide the winner. Rose Evelyn (N. Dietz) despite the 183 lbs. allotted should add another victory to her record. This splendid roan has been a consistent performer in her class and last Saturday's gallop will bear out that she is in perfect trim. For the remaining places I nominate The Gorilla (H. C. Pih) and Wild Cat (S. Y. Liang) though the latter does not appear to be in the same condition as at the Annual Meeting. Ballos (P. P. Botelho), Ocean View (Choy Wing Hay), Shamrock (D. Black), Stopwatch (Ip Kui Ying) and The Hero will be the other starters. Gold Sovereign was involved with Mr. Pih in the accident referred to above and is reported to be lame. Shamrock will earn a few new admirers after covering the half mile in 59 secs. at the last meeting.

"D" Class ponies, Novice Jockeys and the first leg of the Daily Double will provide the interest in the Hunan Handicap, about 1 mile 155 yards. Despite the failure of Sylvandale at the last meeting I am inclined to believe that this chestnut will be among the leaders at the finish to-morrow. Mr. Browning will have the mount and from what I have seen of early track work the combination works well. Gold Coin (H. A. Botelho), Night View (W. H. Choy) and Pride of Tsingtao (R. M. Wood) should be right behind Sylvandale. Wadebridge (K. W. Fung) and Racing Boy (K. I. Ip) are considered to have outside chances. Other probable starters are: Burgo-master (Gregory), Cavalcade (Ho), Copper Idol (H. V. Pearce), Diogenes (Ferguson), Don (C. P. Chiu), Double Chance (Ho Hing Fong), Plain View (Choy Wing Chiu), Seventeenth of September (S. L. Yuen) and Young, Chap (W. K. Yeung).

WATCH BEAR CLAW!

Bear Claw (L. G. Frost) should account for the Kwanzai Handicap over 8 furlongs for "B" Class China Ponies. This pony ran an excellent race at the last meeting and finished very strongly behind Mistake Bay. King's Fancy (H. C. Pih), a recognized sprinter, with only 140 lbs. will have to be reckoned with. This grey mare is fast at the gate and with the help of a close run, Mistake Bay (Black) and Cyclamen Bay (Harriman) will probably fight out for the minor position. Sadko (P. P. Botelho), King's Justice (Butler), and King's Lead (Rosa) will also face the starter. A real gamble will be a bet each way on Rose Queen (N. Dietz).

The second last race on the card is a mile handicap for "B" Class Australians, which incidentally is the second leg of the Daily Double. Followers of form will no doubt make Ranger their selection and I am inclined to agree with them. Mr. D. Black will have the mount again. Violet

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Record Attendance At Spoon And Practice Shoot

The usual mid-week Spoon and Practice Shoot of the Hong Kong Rifle Association on Wednesday was marked by an attendance which easily broke all previous figures.

Rifle-shooting of the "Bisley" type has hitherto been somewhat in the background as far as the Regular Army is concerned, but the comparatively recent free issue of the "1914" rifle to serving Officers and men (which issue, it is understood, has now been extended to the serving personnel of the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines) has entirely altered the conditions hitherto obtained. At the present time there are over 200 of these rifles in use by Army units in this Colony, and the success of the Association's "Bisley" Prize Meeting last May resulted in the formation of a "Bisley" Rifle Club, restricted to members who intend to take up rifle-shooting with the aperture-sight and sling. By the 1st Bn. Royal Ulster Rifles. In spite of the somewhat heavy subscription which this form of shooting entails, it is understood that this Club has already 174 members, while a similar club formed only a day or so ago by the 2nd Bn. Royal Welch Fusiliers has already reached a membership of over 120. Other units, such as the Royal Engineers, so splendidly set by the two units in question.

To revert to the shooting which took place on Wednesday it will be noted that already ten members shooting with the "1914" rifle managed to put up a score of 91 or over, which augurs well for the chances of the Colony in the N.R.A. Overseas Match which is to be fired before the end of 1936. As regards the shooting with the rifle "as issued," it will be noted that C.S.M. Grinham of the 2nd Bn. Royal Welch Fusiliers also scored 91 points, while Lieut. Pattullo, R.E. closely followed him with a score of 89. Both of these competitors were very successful at the "Bisley" Prize Meeting, appearing in many of the Prize Lists of events shot for with the "1914" rifle, so that it is logical to assume that had they been shooting yesterday afternoon with the latter weapon, their scores would have been proportionately higher.

The leading scores at the shoot were as follows:—

Nett Spoon. — Handicap Spoon.

Queen (Y. T. Fung) will have a chance to get warmed up and should finish much closer than she did the last time. Perfect Day (H. C. Pih) is the one pony that may cause an upset in this race. (A fairly bad starter, this chestnut of Chau Bros. finished full of running in the 5 furlongs race on Sept. 28th and the extra distance this time will be a decided advantage. Honey will be taken out by Mr. Frost and with Snowy River (P. P. Botelho), Blandford (N. Dietz), Centre Court (Proulx) and Gold Dragon (Davis) will comprise the balance of the field. There was a last minute rush for the latter pony at the last meeting and I wonder whether this same dark tip will be circulated again to-morrow.

FINAL EVENT

The final event will be for "C" Class Ponies, over 1 mile. Amberley (H. C. Pih), Donovan (W. G. Poy), Mybrynt, High Honour (H. M. Pih), New Star (R. M. Wood), Royal Highness (G. A. Harriman), Tyne (P. P. Botelho), Valorous (Butler), Victoria Hall, What A Chance (D. Black) and Ythan (Frost) will wait for the gate to shoot up. My selections are Ythan (Frost), Amberley (H. C. Pih) and High Honour (H. M. Pih). Valorous is not out of the race by any means, and should the course be a little on the wet side I would advise a bet on this grey.

My final selections will appear in to-morrow's issue, after I have had a chance to see the probable starters put the finishing touches to their training work this morning.

ARMY AQUATIC TEAM

Visit To Singapore Shortly

A team of twelve swimmers, drawn from the Royal Welch Fusiliers, East Lancashires, Royal Ulster Rifles and Royal Artillery and representing the Hong Kong Area Military aquatic section, will pay a visit to Singapore shortly to participate in an aquatic contest with the Singapore Garrison. The swimmers will leave Hong Kong by a troopship on October 20 and will be away about a fortnight. They arrive back in the Colony by another troopship on November 2.

The squad is headed by Lieut. Lewis of the Royal Welch Fusiliers, and he is taking with him the pick of Hong Kong military swimmers.

The complete personnel of the team is as follows:—

Lieut. A. J. Lewis (Captain)
Lieut. E. M. Calvert
Cpl. McCarthy (East Lancs)
Pte. Taylor (East Lancs)
L/Cpl. Thorpe (East Lancs)
Cpl. Gregson (East Lancs)
Pte. Ellingham (East Lancs)
Rifle Hamilton (R.U.R.)
Fus. Owens (R.U.R.)
Gnr. Oliver (R.A.)
Gnr. Roscoe (R.A.)
Gnr. Halliday (R.A.)

Influences Upon The Game

The influence of a touring side from one of the Dominions is felt most in the season following the tour, writes the "Times" rugby correspondent. If the influence has been really strong—for good or ill—it is reflected in the form shown by British sides as a whole against the next band of tourists. South Africa, for example, sent over so heavy a pack of forwards in 1931-32 that the growing disbelief of British players in the efficacy of solid scrummaging, or at any rate their disinclination for hard shoving, received some rude and timely shocks. Some of the shocks were handed on in due course to the New Zealanders of 1935-36.

Behind the scrumming, unfortunately, British players had little to learn from the South African players in question. The one lesson they might have learned from Benny Osler and a few others of his kind, that accurate kicking on the run is worth cultivating, if not worshipping, was learned rather poorly on the whole, yet, unless one is much mistaken, it had its influence all the same. British kicking last season was a good deal less futile than usual. It was used more sparingly and with greater discretion. Wales, on a frozen ground, beat New Zealand by means of the skilful punt-ahead. Again, if the development of a passing movement gained nothing from the last South African tour, there was the convincing influence of Craven to lend force to the existing British belief in the value of strongly-built scrumming half-backs.

Our own contribution to methods of play has been a badly needed strengthening of running-power. It may be said that the degeneration of tactical back-play—well-timed passing, and so on—had enjoined something of the sort. Actually back-play might easily have sunk to the dreariest kind of kicking for safety. Instead there were a number of fine runs-in last season and also some excellent examples of bucking-up. It is to be hoped that the absence of the Dominion spur will not lessen the keenness of British players to make their own 1936-37 a further step forward in the matter of solid scrummaging. Attractive back-play only becomes possible when the forwards are willing and able to open up the play in the manner intended by the rules of the Rugby Union.

CHANGES IN THE RULES

Those rules, incidentally, are likely to be changed again in 12 months' time. The Rugby Union at their annual meeting last June unanimously supported a number of important proposals by the committee. Three of the four Home Counties are believed to favour the proposals, the more drastic of which, perhaps, affect the scoring of points. A dropped goal no longer may outpoint a try, and that comparatively rare event, a goal from a mark, may sink in value from three points to two. The recommendation, of course, will be conveyed to the International Board. The arguments for and against the encouragement of drop-kicking at goal as a means of snatching victory are too well known to warrant repetition. Those who regret the reduction in value from four to three may, however, be reminded that the use of the dropped goal has not gone—it may still save, and even decide matches. Few, one imagines, will oppose the change which after all merely helps to establish the fact that a mark primarily is a defensive act and in all but the more occasional case amply rewarded by a free kick to touch.

While the committee were dealing with scoring they might well have seized the opportunity to redress the balance of penalty kicks, which, as they stand, often fall miserably to achieve justice. At the moment it often is a matter of chance whether a penalty kick awarded for a glaring offence against the rules is of any value. Again it often happens that a comparatively trifling sin is punished unduly merely because it was committed in the region of goal. Much as one hates saddling an already over-taxed referee with further responsibility, it would be an excellent thing if he could order any penalty kick to be taken from an appointed spot, say, 30 yards directly in front of the posts. That would encourage both fair play and good place-kicking. The idea at any rate is at least as worthy of careful consideration as the suggested alterations in value of the dropped goal and goal from a mark.

CLUB RUGBY FIXTURES

The following is the fixture list of the Hong Kong Football Club rugby section for this season:—

1936
Oct. 17 v. Navy (Club ground).
Oct. 24 v. Army (Sookunpoo).
Oct. 31 v. Army (Club ground).
Nov. 7 v. Navy (Causeway Bay).
Nov. 14 v. Navy (Club ground).
Nov. 21 v. Army (Sookunpoo).
Nov. 28 v. Army (Club ground).
Dec. 5 v. Navy (Causeway Bay).
Dec. 12 v. Army (Triangular Tournament-Sookunpoo).
Dec. 19 v. Navy (Triangular Tournament-Club ground).
Dec. 26 Holiday-no game.

1937
Jan. 2 Army v. Navy (Triangular Tournament-Sookunpoo).

Jan. 9 Navy v. Army (Triangular Tournament-Club ground).
Jan. 9 Club v. Singapore-Club ground).
Jan. 16 v. Navy (Triangular Tournament-Causeway Bay).
Jan. 23 v. Army (Triangular Tournament-Club ground).
Jan. 30 v. United Services (Sookunpoo).
Feb. 6 v. Navy (Causeway Bay).
Feb. 13 v. Fusiliers (Sookunpoo).
Feb. 20 v. 1st Round-International Tournament (Club).
Feb. 27 v. 2nd Round-International Tournament (Causeway Bay).
March 6 v. Finals-Seven-A-Side (Club ground).

Other suggested alterations would affect the definition of the tackle and the scrumming about which the most conflicting views are held in various parts of the British Isles. Attempts to control illegal hooking and the purely destructive activities of the winging forwards so far have not been notable for their clarity and practicality. One cannot help feeling that the president, Mr. Greenwood, was largely right when he pointed out that a return to solid shoving would do more to tame the speller than any changes in the laws.

LOCAL HOCKEY

The Police "A" team virtually swamped the Union Hockey Club in their first round fixture in the local Inter-Section Hockey Tournament match played at King's Park yesterday afternoon, winning by ten goals to nil.

The brilliant goal-keeping of Lim (Union) prevented more goals being scored.

In the first half, Wall, Jogindar Singh and Parker scored for the Police, while the seven goals in the second half were scored by Jogindar Singh, Parker (3), Channan Singh (2), and Wall.

Teams:—

Police: Jessop, Blackburn, Hayward, Channan Singh, Gough, Jackson, Ratan Singh, Parker, Wilson, Nazar Singh and Wall.

Union H.C.: Lim, Naranjan Singh, Nazir Ahmed, Makhan Singh, Khajan Singh, A. R. Khan, Piana Singh, N. Singh, Gurbux and G. Singh.

DRAWN GAME

On the P. T. S. ground, the Radio Sports Club and the Argonauts met in another Inter-section tournament match. The result was a goalless draw.

TACKLING SUICIDE PROBLEM

Nervous Diseases And Their Cause

UNCHARTED AREAS OF THE HUMAN BODY

Nerve specialists are conducting an investigation which they believe will reduce the number of murders and suicides.

In many cases where sudden emotional disturbance is the cause it is thought that by treatment before the danger period is reached tragedy might be prevented.

The investigation, which consists of an exploration of the sympathetic nervous system, the great uncharted area of the human body, is being carried out by the National Hospital for Diseases of the Nervous System, Queen's-square, London, W.C. Nervous diseases cause more deaths than tuberculosis, while it has also been ascertained that one in every three people who are unable to work through ill-health are suffering from "anxiety neurosis."

"We are now trying to find the causes of abnormality," an official of the hospital stated, "and why it is that apparently normal people suddenly go mad and commit suicide or murder."

ATHLETIC MEET

The South China Athletic Association will hold its 14th annual athletic meet on November 1, 8 and 11, 1936, at Caroline Hill.

Among the events there will be 3 events open to the Colony namely Men's 100 metres dash, Men's 400 metres Relay Race and Girls' 400 metres Relay Race. Entrance fee $1 for each event. Entries will close on the 20th inst.

may be able to prevent a great many of these tragedies.

"Unfortunately, we are handicapped by lack of funds. This hospital, where 300 operations for the removal of tumours of the brain are conducted each year with 90 per cent. success, is the only one in the world co-ordinating every branch of research into the various nervous diseases.

"Specialists from all over the world attend our lectures, but we are cramped for space, and have to use makeshift and antiquated apparatus."

By means of a film, "The Missing Record," which shows the stress and strain of modern life and its results, the hospital is making the first public appeal for funds in its 77 years' history.

In this film, shortly to be released, the public will be able to see for the first time an actual operation on the brain taking place.

The rebuilding scheme, for which the appeal is made, is to cost £180,000. The Rockefeller Foundation has promised $200,000 of this, with a further $200,000 for endowment, provided the remaining £120,000 is raised by the hospital.

PERRY WORLD'S NO. 1 TENNIS PLAYER

Annual Ranking Lists Of Lawn Tennis Leaders

SENORITA LIZANA'S BIG ADVANCE

(BY A. WALLIS MYERS)

Below is published, for the 19th successive year, the classification of the world's first 10 players of both sexes.

The list are founded on personal observation at official championships this year—those at Wimbledon, Paris and Forest Hills, U.S.A.—and at the Davis Cup and Wightman Cup team matches.

Account has also been taken of other matches at home and abroad where players have been in competition under championship conditions. The lists are:

MEN.

1. F. J. Perry (England).
2. G. Von Cramm (Germany).
3. J. D. Budge (U.S.A.).
4. A. K. Quist (Australia).
5. H. W. Austin (England).
6. J. H. Crawford (Australia).
7. W. L. Allison (U.S.A.).
8. E. M. Grant (U.S.A.).
9. H. Henkel (Germany).
10. V. B. McGrath (Australia).

WOMEN.

1. Miss H. H. Jacobs (U.S.A.).
2. Mrs. Sperling (Germany).
3. Miss D. E. Round (England).
4. Miss A. Marble (U.S.A.).
5. Mme. Mathieu (France).
6. Mlle. J. Jedrejowska (Poland).
7. Miss K. Stammers (England).
8. Senorita A. Lizana (Chile).
9. Mrs. Fabyan (U.S.A.).
10. Miss C. Babcock (U.S.A.).

Classification of merit must always be difficult when neither the test nor the conditions by which it is governed is uniform. Official championships are conducted on the knock-out system; the draw must therefore play an important, and sometimes a decisive, part.

Nor are all the championships played under similar conditions. Even at the same base the surface may vary from day to day; players for planes remain as material as horses for courses.

A GREAT RECORD

The appraiser must not therefore be influenced exclusively by results. He must judge relative form as much by the standard and trials of the challenge imposed as by the actual outcome of the contest, and he must not ignore the fact that although champions are vindicated by the obstacles they overcome, all are exposed to the accident of the chase. When the strain of competition is unequal the judge must be more circumspective.

F. J. Perry is at the top of the men's list for the third successive year. He has not escaped defeat and has revealed a disposition, which all leaders betray as habit, of defence than offence; yet he has repeated his feat of 1934 and won the British and American championships in the same year. Each has now been taken three times.

No other player in the annals of the game, except Tilden has that record, and Tilden did not win Wimbledon for three years in sequence, playing through each year.

PERRY AND TILDEN

I do not think Perry, for all his glittering success, is as yet Tilden's equal as a master.

Those who differ "may be reminded that for six years in succession, in a field incomparably richer than Wimbledon's was at the time of since, Tilden was unbeaten. In the American championship, and that he defeated conclusively players who have or would have challenged Perry's supremacy.

Perry is first to-day because of his superlative stamina and sustained mobility; he also plays the ball quicker than any of his rivals. These are cardinal virtues when champions are rare, as they are to-day.

A decade ago, when Tilden, Johnston, Lacoste, Borotra and Cochet were in their prime, I doubt whether the possession of such virtues would have been as adequate for the conflict of stroke and strategy. Perry makes too many mistakes under pressure to be invulnerable.

VON CRAMM SECOND

The allocation of the second place is difficult. I believe Budge to be a more certain champion of the future than Von Cramm. Both have defeated Perry this year; both have lost to him. At their third meeting the American came within two points of a second victory.

Budge's age and physique give him a potential advantage over the German. But Von Cramm won the French championship with a fine triumph over Perry, and he was a finalist at Wimbledon.

Budge has made a progressive advance since Wimbledon; he is now in a class apart in America. In only one respect is he inferior to the German—the capacity to impose the coup de grace.

After the first three there is now an appreciable gulf. Crawford, a great player, has become slower both in movement and in the speed of his stroke; his failure at Wimbledon may be said to have cost his country the Davis Cup.

QUIST IN WORLD CLASS

Without Crawford's genius, Quist deprived him of the Australian championship, and the latter's match with Von Cramm in the inter-zone match at Wimbledon, which only the accident of a net-cord stroke prevented him from winning, stamped the South Australian as a world player.

Austin beat Crawford in the Davis Cup, but was defeated by Perry, Von Cramm and Quist. He played better than last year and showed no trace of exhaustion after a long duel; yet against all the men above him he was handicapped by the lack of an attacking service. No refinement of stroke could discount this relative weakness.

Allison has lost ground, mainly through a physical handicap. Brian Grant was a semi-finalist in the American championship, where he engaged Perry in four strenuous sets. Technically, he is not in the same category as his countryman, Sydney Wood; he is only a prince of defenders.

MCGRATH'S TEMPORARY FAILURE

Germany's second string, Henkel, deserves a higher place and might have gained it but for untimely illness on the eve of the interzone match at Wimbledon. Once he has strengthened his second service he will be Von Cramm's equal; every other asset is there.

I give the 10th place to Vivian McGrath because of his valiant display in the interzone match against Germany when he deputised for Quist. His comparative failure in 1936, was, I am convinced, only temporary; a boy who beat Vines at 16 cannot stand still. McGrath has all the attributes of a champion.

There were other candidates for the 10th place—Christian Boususs, who beat both Perry and Austin in "best-of-three" matches; Robert Riggs, who in his first season on grass courts won the Newport Cup in America; J. Pallada, who assisted Yugoslavia to reach the final of the Davis Cup European zone; Bernard Destreman, of France, certain of a big future.

MOST IMPROVED WOMAN PLAYER

It was easier to choose the first 10 women than to rank them. In no year has there been greater equality and less certainty about the outcome of any given contest.

Miss Helen Jacobs achieving her great ambition, won the title at Wimbledon after eight attempts. Yet 1936 was not her best year. She was defeated by four of her rivals and was lucky to survive a match against a fifth.

The most improved player of the year was Senorita Lizana, of Chile, who may well assume Mlle. Lengien's mantle in the near future. In her only appearance in an official championship she held a winning lead against the ultimate survivor.

Mrs. Sperling played unconquerable tennis at the French championship, and needed only a little more luck to succeed at Wimbledon.

In her two Wightman Cup matches at Wimbledon Miss Round played better than either Miss Ja-

DUNLOP-SCOTTISH CHAMPIONSHIP

The Holder Beaten

Mark Seymour, winner of the event last year, was beaten in the first round of the Dunlop-Scottish Match-Play Championship, on the course of the Panmure Club, near Carnoustie, recently, when he lost by two holes to D. Millar, of Blairgowrie.

Seymour took the lead at the first hole, but Millar drew level at the third. Millar was bunkered at the fourth, which he lost, and the holder retained his lead to the turn, which he reached in 35 strokes against Millar's 36. The next five holes were halved. Millar drew level with a 3 at the 15th, where Seymour was bunkered and took the lead for the first time at the 16th, where the holder was again trapped in sand. Seymour looked like winning the 17th, but Millar holed a putt of 8 ft. down a ridge, running away from the hole, and secured the division which left him dormy. Millar gave his rival no chance at the 18th, which he played perfectly and won in 4.

AN EASY VICTORY

G. C. Hutton, of Leven, one of the qualifying leaders, scored an easy win, by six and five, over J. Murray (Pitlochry). Hutton, out in 36, turned two up, and won the next four holes in 3, 4, 5, 4. W. M. Hastings (Barassie), with whom Hutton had shared the lead in the qualifying round, was eliminated in the opening round. W. Anderson (Murcar), who had broken the course record on the first day, beating Hastings by five and four, J. Forrester (Cruden Bay), the Scottish professional champion, had a great struggle with J. Campbell (Balmagask) before the latter was successful on the 19th green. Both did the first nine holes in 36 strokes, and they turned level. Forrester won the 10th in 3, and the 12th in 4, but he was not on in 2 at the 18th, which he lost, and was brought back to all square at the 17th, where Campbell secured a 3. After a half in 4 at the 18th Campbell had a fine 3 at the 19th and passed into the second round.

Millar, conqueror of last year's winner, was himself beaten in the second round by G. Crichton (Carnoustie) after a protracted match lasting 20 holes. Anderson also had to play an extra hole before he was successful over J. C. McKinnon (Monifieth). After turning two down, Anderson squared at the 16th, where he secured a 4. The next two holes were halved in par figures, but at the 18th McKinnon laid himself a stytle and lost the hole to a 4.

Some of the best golf of the round was seen in the match between Hutton and W. Don (Duff House Royal). Hutton having a score of three under 4's when he won the match at the 17th. Out in 37 and all square Hutton had a run of three 3's from the 10th, winning two of these holes, and the next five were halved in 5, 3, 4, 3, 4.

gobs or Mrs. Sperling in any of their matches during the year. Like Mrs. Fabyan, she reserved her greatest tennis for these team engagements.

AMERICA'S NEW CHAMPION

Miss Alice Marble, the new American champion, is ranked Number Four. Illness kept her out of competition for two years; she returned to justify all her earlier hopes. She may require more than one year at Wimbledon to master alien conditions.

As a stroke-maker, blending force with finesse and using all the court, she is ripe for further triumphs.

Mlle. Jedrejowska has advanced and, with her penetrating attack, should go further. Miss Stammers, dropping from third place to seventh, has probably been over-coached; her natural skill is too patent for discipline.

Mme. Mathieu was a finalist in Paris. She would be rated higher if she played less. Courage and determination have earned Miss Babcock the 10th place; a lack of personal ambition deprived Mrs. Fabyan of a higher position than ninth.

Had she sought wider competition abroad Mrs. Miller, the champion of South Africa, would undoubtedly have gained a leading place. Miss Hartigan, Australia's champion, is omitted for the same reason. Mrs. Moody left the field open for others. "Daily Telegraph."

JOHANNESBURG'S CORONATION GIFT

Johannesburg's Coronation gift is to consist of a housing scheme at Fordsburg, the title deeds of which will be handed to the King. It is proposed to raise £20,000 by public subscription and to duplicate the housing scheme which has already been launched at Fordsburg. The Johannesburg Chamber of Mines has already promised £1,000.

KING'S POPULARITY WITH AMERICAN AUDIENCES

"There is no doubt that the most popular face on the American screen to-day is the King of England," said Sir Cedric Hardwicke, who recently landed at Southampton from New York. "The image of President Roosevelt draws cheers intermingled with jeers and that of London, his rival, can be assessed the same. Individual screen favourites are, of course, popular, but immediately a picture of our King is thrown upon the screen everyone cheers wildly."

SIR ARCHIBALD LYLE

Sir Archibald Lyle, by a gift recently of £2500 in memory of his father has enabled Scottish National War Memorial scheme at Edinburgh Castle to be declared free of debt. It is also announced by the "Weekly Scotsman" that a

ROYAL NAVY

Refit Of The Hood Completed

H.M.S. Hood, Captain A. F. Pridham, has completed her refit at Portsmouth Dockyard. While under refit she has been recommissioned.

The arrival of the Hood in the Mediterranean will restore the number of capital ships there to the normal strength of five. Three of these are battleships of the Queen Elizabeth class (the Queen Elizabeth, Barham, and Valiant); the others are the battle-cruisers Hood and Repulse, formerly in the Home Fleet. Until the Hood arrives on the station the flag of Vice-Admiral Geoffrey Blake C.B., D.S.O., Second-in-Command, is flying in the Barham.

RESERVE DESTROYERS
Commander W. G. A. Robson, hitherto in command of the Wishart in the 1st Flotilla, Mediterranean, is appointed from Sept. 24 to H.M.S. Greenwich for the command of reserve destroyers at Rosyth. Commander Robson was promoted in December last while in command of H.M.S. Wren in the Mediterranean. He began his sea service as midshipman of the battleship Malaya in the Grand Fleet in May, 1918, and as a sub-lieutenant served in the gunboat Tarantula in China. His destroyer experience began in 1925 when he joined H.M.S. Bruce.

BOARD OF ADMIRALTY INSPECTIONS
The Board of Admiralty, represented by the First Lord, Sir Samuel Hoare; the First Sea Lord, Admiral Sir Ernie Chatfield; the Second Sea Lord, Admiral Sir
